Tinsley Ellis and Marcia Ball Acoustic Songs & Stories

Tinsley Ellis and Marcia Ball are excited to present an intimate evening of their music and memories called "Acoustic Songs and Stories." They will be performing at Heidi's Jazz Club on Wednesday, November 8th in Cocoa Beach. Tinsley will perform many of his popular songs from his 20 albums, plus some delta blues and classics on his National Steel and Martin acoustic guitars. Marcia, a five-time Grammy nominee, will play the piano and sing her original songs. Finally, they will come together as a duo to close the night playing together and swapping tales of their travels and travails. The showtimes are 6:30 pm and 9 pm.

Tinsley Ellis has been immersed in music his whole life. Born in Atlanta 1957 and raised in southern Florida, he acquired his first guitar at age seven, inspired by seeing The Beatles perform on The Ed Sullivan Show. He took to guitar instantly, developing and sharpening his skills as he grew up. Like many kids his age, Ellis discovered the blues through the back door of British Invasion bands like The Yardbirds, The Animals, Cream and The Rolling Stones as well as Southern rockers like the Allman Brothers. Less than three years later, Ellis, already an accomplished teenaged musician, left Florida and moved to Atlanta. He soon joined a hard-driving local blues band, the Alley Cats. In 1981, along with blues singer and harpist Chicago Bob Nelson, Tinsley formed The Heartfixers, a group that would become Atlanta's top-drawing blues band.

"Fifty years have passed in a flash," says pianist, songwriter, and vocalist Marcia Ball of her long and storied career. Ball, the 2018 Texas State Musician Of The Year, has won worldwide fame and countless fans for her ability to ignite a full-scale roadhouse party every time she takes the stage. Born in Orange, Texas, and raised in Vinton, Louisiana, her deep Acadian heritage and a lifetime of absorbing Gulf Coast rhythm and blues is evident in her original songs and the classics she chooses to cover. This has made her a one-of-a-kind favorite with music lovers all over the world. With each new release, her reputation as a profoundly soulful singer, a boundlessly talented pianist and a courageous, inventive songwriter continues to grow. Her love of the road has led to years of soul-satisfying performances at festivals, concert halls and clubs.

Martin Barre

Martin Barre has been Jethro Tull's guitarist for over 43 years. His sound and playing was a major factor in their success. Album sales have exceeded 60 million units and they continue to be played worldwide, representing an important part of classic rock history. Martin's guitar playing has earned him a high level of respect and recognition. His solos were voted 25th best solo ever in the USA and 20th best solo ever in the UK for his playing on Aqualung. His playing on the album Crest of a Knave earned him a Grammy award in 1989. As well as numerous Jethro Tull albums, Martin has worked with many other artists including Paul McCartney, Phil Collins, Gary Moore, Joe Bonamassa and Chris Thompson and has shared the stage with such legends as Jimi Hendrix, Fleetwood Mac, Pink Floyd, and Led Zeppelin.

Martin has put together a band to play the "classic" music from the Tull catalogue. His band is a total commitment to give the Tull fans and a broader audience the chance to hear tracks not performed for many years. The band includes top musicians from a similar background. Band line up is Martin Barre (Lead), Dan Crisp (Vocals, Guitar), Alan Thomson (Bass Darby), and Darby Todd (Drums). More recently Martin has collaborated with original Tull band members Clive Bunker and Dee Palmer on a tour across America celebrating 50 Years of Jethro Tull!

Firefall

The musical roots of Firefall run deep into the fertile soil of American rock and folk rock. In more than 40 years of making music, Firefall has distinguished itself as one of the top bands in the genre known as Americana. The band helped spearhead the birth and growth of the country rock and folk-rock sound of the 1970s and still remains one of the few remaining torchbearers for harmony-laden rock. It transcends and embraces many labels: rock, soft rock, country rock, contemporary country, easy listening and Americana. The band will perform on Saturday 9th at The Gleason Performing Arts Center.

The band got its start in 1973 when Rick Roberts and Jock Bartley met while Bartley was on tour with Gram Parsons in New York City. After Bartley and Roberts returned home to Boulder, Colorado, the duo soon began practicing together. Encouraged to form a band, they enlisted bassist Mark Andes and guitarist Larry Burnett. After Andes and Burnett joined in 1974, the band was called Firefall, a name Roberts is said to have taken from the Yosemite Firefall annual event at Yosemite National Park. Still, with its deep roots in Colorado, Firefall was one of the first bands to bring the creative and musical richness of the Rocky Mountain area to the forefront of the industry.

Firefall went on to earn two platinum and three gold albums with hits like “You are the Woman,” “Just Remember I Love You,” “Strange Way,” “Cinderella,” “Mexico,” and “Call on Me.” They shared stages with other top bands of the day, including Fleetwood Mac, The Doobie Brothers, The Beach Boys, Lynyrd Skynyrd and Chicago.

Jock Bartley (lead guitar and vocals) is joined on stage by longtime Firefall members Steve Weinmeister (guitar, mandolin, keyboards, and vocals), Jim Waddell (keyboards, flute, saxophone), Sandy Fica (drums), and newcomer John Bisaha from The Babys (bass and vocals).

In the Fall of 2023, the band will release “Friends & Family” on Sunset Blvd Records, backed by a major promotional campaign. This unique ‘concept’ album features new versions of classic songs by artists that are part of Firefall’s rich history, including groups that the founding members played in or that Firefall toured with, including The Byrds, Flying Burrito Bros., Spirit, Dan Fogelberg, Heart, Gram Parsons, Poco, the Doobie Bros., Loggins & Messina, Fleetwood Mac, Lynyrd Sky-nyrd, and Marshall Tucker. You can pre-order “Friends & Family” on their website, www.firefallofficial.com

Firefall has nurtured its faithful and growing audiences through live performances, which attract new generations of fans.

Turn Back Time! We Remember Pucci Lowery

Did you ever feel that you want to turn back time? Several members of our music scene decided to do just that on Sunday, November 12th, from 2 to 6 pm at The Cadillac Cove in Satellite Beach. Several local legends will come together for an afternoon of jamming their music from the 80's and 90s, and to remember another legend who unexpectedly passed away a few weeks ago - Gerald Lamar "Pucci" Lowery whose sweet guitar and sound bites have left musical footprints in Brevard County.

While we did not hear much about Pucci after the turn of the century, he was one of the first musicians pictured in Brevard Live - back then it was a newsletter. Kenny Cohen's Piece By Piece was playing Dr Joe's Intra-Coastal, the hippest bar in town, and we were advertising them.

After Pucci passed away, Dave Kury was the driving force for this memorial jam. "When I moved here Pucci was THE guitar player in town," he told Brevard Live. "He played all styles well and knew his way around a recording studio." Dave was not willing to let one of his friends just fade away. A date was set for a celebration of life with musicians who have performed with him. Many of our legends will be there, among them Kenneth Page who flies in all the way from Kansas City to play with the cats of "Piece By Piece." If you want to see the Who's Who from the 80's and 90's, this is your chance. There is no admission charge, just come and hear the sounds from "the good old days."

We asked a few local legends to remember Pucci. Here is what they said!

Kenny Cohen:

Let me tell ya, Pucci was a force to be reckoned with, a real colorful character. He had an entertaining and wild sense of humor. We sure did laugh a whole lot. We shared endless stories, mostly about the music business, but about family life too. "Yeah," he would say, "when I used to play with so and so, and we were in blah blah blah, and we did THIS and we were doing THAT and we...well, you wouldn't believe it. The cats I was playing with didn't know ANYTHING, they are all insects. I'd have to show them how to do EVERYTHING... un-f#%ing believable!" Ha ha ha...and the funny thing is that he was usually right and he could back it up. If anything went wrong with the gear in a show, he could always get it up and running: guitars, amps, forget about it. He made me chuckle when we played together on stage; he was always on top of things and never missed a beat no matter how much FUN he'd been having on a break. And he had impeccable taste in music and performance, he was wise beyond his years, a seasoned player, he had a lot of heart.

Roland Guilarte of BMG Concerts:

Pucci was a smart guy with a gentle soul and a sincere love of music. I met Pucci back in 1993 at Record Hut. I decided to try my hand at promoting a jazz concert, and Pucci was recommended as someone who could help me with sound and backline (instrument rental). We became friends and enjoyed many years of conversation about live music and the music business. He shared his vision and ideas with me during many of our discussions. Over the years Pucci was always willing to help when I needed anything related to backline for my concerts. He supplied equipment that was used by artists like Dick Dale, Robin Ford, Jeff Lober, Molly Hatchet, Johnny Winter and many others. He was a friend in my music world and in my personal life. I learned of his passing just three weeks ago when I called him to inquire about renting two guitar amps from him. I will miss his kindness and his gentle soul.

Bruce Marion of Marion Music:

Gerald “Pucci” Lowery was one of Brevard’s most talented and enigmatic musicians for all times. We lost another great local musician: guitarist, vocalist, saxophonist and sound expert. A former Eau Gallie High School graduate who played with Beatlemania as George Harrison, touring nationally and being on call for Disney World for sound reinforcement. He came from a musical family, his dad had played in the fifties and sixties with Frank Lutz’s dad in the area and Pucci’s cousins had a music/electronics store. Hats off to his lovely mom Marcella who drove him and did all she could for his career!

Ken Page:

I lived in Brevard County, (Cape Canaveral) for 16 years and 18 years total in Florida. I’ve known Pucci for about 45 years or so, (since the late 1970’s). We have played in many bands together. The ones that I can remember are The Golden Classics (which also had Nicky Cirrico on drums) and was a 50’s & 60’s Show Band. Nicky was in the first & third iterations of the band, I was in the 2nd & 3rd iteration and Pucci was in the third. There was also Piece by Piece which was Kenny Cohen’s Band. This was a phenomenal band that played all genres of music (Jazz, Rock, Blues, RnB, Funk, Reggae, Pop, Latin, Etc). We had “Big Fun” and played everywhere. Some of the places that we played as Piece by Piece are Coconuts, the Cocoa Beach Pier, Heidi’s Jazz Club, The Cove, Lou’s Blues, Beach Shack, Sebastian Beach Inn, Dr Joe’s Intra-Coastal (downstairs Jazz, upstairs everything else), Gatsby’s Dockside, Caravelle Lounge, The Shark, The King Center and the Key West Bar/ Purple Porpoise/Indian Harbor Beach Club, and that’s just locally. We played all styles of Music with Pucci able to handle all the styles in an authentic professional manner. Pucci and I also played as a duo many times and have recorded in his studio many many times. We were very close friends. Even after I left Brevard County, we continued to talk on the phone for as long as 4 or 5 hours and even 7 hours a couple of times. With his high intellect we were able to cover any topic from music to politics to world events and, of course, we discussed thoughts about all of the people we knew mutually. So we stayed in touch throughout our lives. I will and do miss Pucci as a great musician, a musical collaborator, and one of my all time Best Friends.

Join our local legends for a musical afternoon when they will Turn Back Time remembering Pucci Lowery.

Progress, No Progress

In the past 50 years, we've seen progress in many areas, electronics being the most prevalent and obvious. But, what are some other areas we've seen technological advances in? After all, every commercial on TV now boasts some new technology even though it's not appropriate. For example, a new brand of water boasts new healthy technology, as if the chemical makeup of water has changed over the years. There have, however, been advances in consumables over the years, and yet, some things never change. Here's a look at some things that have evolved and some that remain the same.

Progress: Coffee! Yes, now you can get coffee in almost any flavor. I'm waiting on Turkey and Cranberry flavored coffee. Except for that, you can get pretty much any flavor you want! Coffee tech has really taken off. Used to be you could buy a cup of coffee and there was no question as to what you wanted. The only other questions were, "Would you like cream and sugar with that?" Now ordering a cup comes with a myriad of choices I'd rather not make without my first cup of joe. And yes, there's even decaf for people who really like coffee but can't remember why. Since the inception of coffee as the main breakfast drink in the 16th Century, coffee has come a long way.

Acoustic Guitars: Many advances have been made to acoustic guitar building, from the bracing patterns to the type of wood used. I think the most advancement has been made in the amplification of acoustic guitars. I started playing in 1966 and choices in amplification were nil. There were these things you could stick unto the front and plug into an amp. Besides sounding like playing through a paper cup, any volume greater than the volume your natural acoustic volume would create a great amount of feedback. 1996, however, debuted the Ovation acoustic electric guitars. Great! These early pickup systems, though, weren't very good. And Ovation also made the wise business decision to make a guitar that was impossible to hold, whether you were standing up or sitting down. Good Move! Obviously, this technology has come a long way.

Milk: Milk technology has grown to a mind boggling extent. It used to be you went to the store to get a gallon of milk. The end. Now you have regular, low fat, 1%, and 2%, which brings me to the question, if you get 2% milk, what's the other 98% made of? Then you have coconut milk, almond milk, soy bean milk (Silk) which really shouldn't be called milk at all. If it doesn't come out of a cow, don't call it milk! One of these days I'm going to get my Bachelors Degree in milk to figure it all out. Lactose intolerant milk? Why? That's like saying "I'm a vegetarian but feel like eating something that resembles meat, like veggie burgers." Why don't you just eat veggies and leave the burger part out? (Got that, Kate?) Personally, I'm waiting for 37.374% milk. Seems to be a niche market there! Subsequently, yes, milk technology has certainly blossomed in the past half century.

No progress: Towels: Yes, a towel is a towel is a towel. Not much has been done in towel technology in the past century. I bet I could go to a store 100 years ago and buy a bath towel that's pretty much the same then as it is now. Maybe make that 200 years ago. So, no, we're definitely falling way behind on towel technology.

Pens: The first Bic pen was made in 1950. It has still remained pretty much the same for the past 73 years. Maybe if something works, don't mess with it. I'll bet there's more Bic pens in the world than stars in the sky.

Butter: Thankfully, you can still go to the store and find real butter and the only decision you have to make is salted or unsalted. Butter technology is still old fashioned in that sense. Good thing they didn't fall into the milk technology conundrum. Now, I'm not talking about fake butter. There's been plenty of advancements in that technology, as in "I Can't Believe You Call This Crap Butter".

Eggs: When was the last time you heard anybody using the slogan "The latest in egg technology"? Like... NEVER! Not in the past decade, or century or millennia! NEVER! Come on egg industry. Of all the no progress categories, you have the most catching up to do.

So, there you go. My list of the top consumer technological advancements and the least, excepting the electronics market. Maybe next, we'll look at advancements in nail file technology.

Stay Tuned

By Steve LeClair

These days our lives move so quickly, it's difficult to spend quality time with those who we love. This month's profile is on a husband and wife duo who solved some of that with music (which is another love in itself). Whether you're enjoying a cold drink and some food at one of our many riverside venues or just out on a deck that so many places have set up for music, you'll find acoustic solo and duo acts playing. Stay Tuned Duo is one of these groups. The duo consists of Michael and Tammy Hance. You'll find that they cover what most people like to hear including Fleetwood Mac, Beatles, Eagles, and Simon and Garfunkel, but will be surprised to hear songs like Undun and No Sugar Tonight by the Guess Who or Supertramp. Prior to Covid they had been playing every weekend and have been increasing booking ever since establishments have started back adding music. If you know how Covid hit our venues' willingness to have live music and also stay in business at the same time, you can understand.

Michael Hance is originally from Huntingtown, Maryland, and received formal training in music while playing trumpet in his high school orchestra. He then picked up the bass guitar in his early college years while playing in a band at his parent's local country club. In the early 2000's, he and two close friends and their families would take their boats and "raft up" on our local waterways for the entire weekends. They would bring their acoustic guitars and would make some great music. This gave way to his first acoustic trio, the Banana River Rafters. They were a constant and popular fixture at Doubles Beachside when it was located on South Patrick Drive. He also "jammed" with other area musicians, eventually meeting Mike Staton and formed the Mike and Mikey duo. This group then morphed into a trio called Savannah Wind after adding Tammy as the third member. This is where Tammy and Mike first met before getting into a relationship and later marrying. In 2012 Mike and Tammy went on to form Stay Tuned as the trio was breaking up. This turn in events had Mike stepping up to sing more, as previously he had only sung lead on one or two songs. This also had Tammy picking up more guitar parts and increasing her confidence on the instrument. Fun fact:

Mike has gone by the nickname Juke Box because of his ability to play and know so many songs. Mike's father owned a radio and electronics store in Maryland after serving in the Army, and Michael would run the store and do repairs in the shop while his father did house call repairs. This experience would eventually lead him to pursuing an engineering degree at Old Dominion University. Being an audiophile at heart, Mike's focus is on sound reproduction. He constantly is embracing advances in audio, speakers, and electronics. This lends itself to one of Stay Tuned's main areas of focus: To produce quality sound over sound volume. Mike shared, "We get a lot of compliments about how folks enjoy not just our music, but the controlled volume and lack of harshness, all resulting in a pleasing listening experience and one which they can hold a conversation with the people at their table without screaming!" Michael's music influences include Chicago, The Eagles, The Band, Fleetwood Mac, and The Moody Blues.

Tammy played classical violin in grade school and high school but eventually stepped in front of a microphone at twenty-eight years old in her hometown of Woodstock, Virginia as the lead singer of a band called Inside Out. Some years later while playing in various duos and at open jams, she started picking up the guitar. After moving to Florida in 2007, she appeared in Country Legends shows at various venues throughout Brevard County. Before joining Savannah Wind, her first duo was with a local musician, Ken Moores. Tammy's musical influences include The Eagles, Tom Petty, The Doobie Brothers, and Fleetwood Mac, and she loves classic Country music. Outside of music, Tammy has been a Certified Veterinary Technician since 2006. She owns and operates her own pet sitting/pet care business, Beachside Pet Nanny. When asked about a few things they enjoy about performing, Tammy answered, "definitely would be getting to do something we love together, seeing people sing along to the songs we play and those times when people tell us 'I've never heard anyone play THAT song live before'." Tammy and Michael live in Indian Harbour Beach with their two cats, Geri and Edwin. Check out the group on Facebook.

MIFF 2023: Stars Of The Silver Screen

Reviewed By Charles Knight

Twenty Five years! Wow what a milestone! Let us tell you “This is one of the most wonderful events Brevard has seen!” This year’s theme was Stars of the Silver Screen which is appropriate as it’s the Silver anniversary of the festival itself.

Filmmakers from Florida and beyond presented films of several genres in various categories over a two day/ two night period. There was also the Thursday evening premier which this year was a horror film followed by an after party atop the Hotel Melby and live music by Savage Joi .

Friday afternoon featured a group of international shorts by filmmakers from around the world and has become a fan favorite of ours. The international series was followed by the phenominally hilarious comedian Lisa Corrao keeping the crowd in guffaws. Friday evening was once again a frightening affair with various shorts and least one short film of a spooky nature befitting the Halloween Season (cue the eerie music...) Fade to black.

Then began the Saturday (and final day/night) featuring the Florida filmmakers matinee roundtable discussions. The longest and most interactive day of the festival it also blends a group of short films of many genres keeping one’s interest piqued. Followed by the first roundtable and Q & A section where the viewers were able to pick the brains of the filmmakers themselves Saturdays also give young filmmakers a chance to showcase their talented entries. There’s a lot of young talent out there and it is certainly a fan favorite and fabulous section for all that attended!

Immediately following the young artists was the documentary section where we got to see some truly interesting films including one titled ‘We Walk From Here’ by Matthew Wayne Krause which won the prestigious Humanitarian Award.

A favorite among filmmakers and audience members alike is the Red Carpet Event that featured a dance number brought to you by Turner Talent with Chuck Fresh emulating a 1920s era newscaster with the obligatory nasal narration as he introduced several actors dressed as screen icons of the time. Also featuring a Boogie woogie dance number and then the vocal styling of Dallas Knight singing “Somewhere over the Rainbow” from the classic film The Wizard of Oz. The performances were followed by the actual interviews of the various filmmakers as they strutted their stuff on the carpet for all to see.

Followed by the award presentations in the auditorium and the final sequence of films, the festival was once again a massive success culminating in the after party at Hemmingways Restaurant’s courtyard where Rockstar Entertainment played music and the crowd sang karaoke as well as the presentation of more awards to the participants. As always, 100 percent of all the proceeds go to The No Limits Academy aiding children and young adults with special needs. Make sure to follow the MIFF or The Melbourne Independent Filmmakers Festival online or on Social Media.

THREE DOG NIGHT

Legendary band, Three Dog Night, now in its 5th decade, claims some of the most astonishing statistics in popular music. In the years 1969 through 1974, no other group achieved more top 10 hits, moved more records, or sold more concert tickets than this band.

Three Dog Night hits weave through the fabric of pop culture today, whether on the radio where they are heard day in and day out, in TV commercials or in major motion pictures -- songs like “Mama Told Me (Not To Come)”, “Joy to the World”, “Black and White”, “Shambala” and “One” serve to heighten our emotions and crystallize Three Dog Night’s continuing popularity.

Marking over 50 years on the road, Three Dog Night continues to grow its fan base by keeping up a full schedule of concerts at theatres, performing arts centers, fairs, festivals, corporate events, and casinos. Since 1986, the band has performed nearly 3,000 shows including 2 Super Bowls.

Joining Three Dog Night as a special guest will be Boston Rock Legend Charlie Farren. He’s long been known for great songs, great singing, and for outstanding live performances. Currently touring solo acoustic, Farren captures the audience with his unique delivery, insightful lyrics, soaring vocals, and distinctively intricate, ‘Full Band’ guitar style that distinguishes him among the country’s elite musical artists.

5 Questions w/ comedian Dorian Gayle

By Steve Keller

Local comic Dorian Gayle might not stay local for very much longer. The man known for his quick wit and spot on impressions (Chris Rock, Kevin Hart, and Bernie Mac among others) has expanded his reach from Brevard County to worldwide exposure on Network television and the online community. Google recently updated his profile to an ‘Internet Personality’ Public Figure status. Meet Dorian Gayle as Brevard Live asks him 5 Questions...

Brevard Live: When did you know that you wanted to be an entertainer/comedian?

Dorian Gayle: When I was 16 years old, I quit my Pop Warner football team and told my dad I wanted to be a standup comedian. During my senior year of high school, I joined the TV Production club, musical theater and Chorus. I knew that I had the potential to be skilled in many avenues of entertainment so during my senior year I didn’t hold back. Eventually I became one of the most popular kids in school and known to be the funniest.

What was your first time on stage like?

DG: My first time was terrifying; I was so nervous and I didn’t even make it through my entire set. I said a bunch of curse words out of nervousness and frustration. I had grown up having stage fright and anxiety so stand-up comedy wasn’t just a career choice, it was overcoming a fear. It was 2014. That same year I started writing more jokes and doing my Chris Rock impression and had the first great set of my career.

Can you talk about your involvement with BET (Black Entertainment Television)?

DG: Back in April of last year I did a video on Tik Tok. A producer discovered one of my videos and reached out. Later in the year he invited me to film a Burger King commercial for the Season Finale for BET’s ‘Ms. Pat Show’ in Atlanta. The commercial aired on May 25th. He then called me a week later and told me his boss was flying me to the 2022 BET awards in LA. I was able to stay in LA for 5 days.

After the awards in December, I was to be hired to create content for BET’s new project ‘Nanomicro’. In January of 2023, BET published an article titled “The Top 12 Tik Tok Influencers to follow in 2023” and I am included in the article.

What would be a dream scenario for you as an entertainer?

DG: My aspiration to be on Google started after I noticed that having an online presence could help amplify my business even more. I decided to start reaching out and networking in order to get more coverage and exposure I needed for myself. I had to believe that I deserved more credit so I decided to do the work. I would love to complete my dream of doing stand-up comedy full time and going on tour worldwide wide.

What advice would you give someone who is thinking about getting into show business?

DG: Commit to your craft before you start your journey.

Catch Dorian Gayle in comedy clubs in Brevard County and beyond and online on his social media.

My Flori-duh

By Charles Knight

After attending the Melbourne Independent Filmmakers Festival last month, I was inspired to write about some films and television shows that were filmed in the Everglades, Sweetwater, Miami, and the surrounding areas. I'll begin with the Glades...

The Everglades was a television series that was filmed throughout the Glades but mostly in the Big Cypress swamp where I am from. It didn't last long, it only ran in 1961-62 and starred actor Ron Hayes as Constable Lincoln Vail. An Ivan Tors production it featured many scenes depicting the main character speeding through the Everglades on an airboat. My brother (Jack Jr.) taught Mr. Hayes the ins and outs of operating an airboat, he also acted as a stuntman on the series; the boat used in the series was stored on a trailer beside our home in Sweetwater. Aside from acting as stuntmen on the show my father Jack Sr. taught the actor to scuba dive in a local swimming pool. I have a photo of them in the pool wearing scuba gear. The Everglades also featured guest appearances from Burt Reynolds and a relative of mine, Dawn Wells (Mary Ann of Gilligan's Island, she was a cousin by marriage). Although the series only lasted two seasons there are thirty-one episodes available. Look it up on Youtube or Google.

Gentle Ben was another television series based in the Everglades about a young boy, his pet black bear, and his family including his Game Warden father. Starring a very young Clint Howard (Ron's younger sibling) as Mark Wedloe, and Dennis Weaver as his father Tom (another game warden). The series lasted a bit longer than The Everglades, three seasons or 56 episodes on CBS from 1967-69. Often shot in the Glades and surrounding areas as well as Sweetwater, the cast and crew became familiar faces in South Florida, I once played a game of catch with Clint while he awaited his next scene. He was a nice kid.

Sea Hunt was filmed primarily in California with some scenes and episodes shot in Silver Springs, Tarpon Springs, and Cypress Gardens. Because of dad's and my brother's scuba knowledge, they were sometimes used as stuntmen. I guess that was less expensive than bringing stunt people from Los Angeles.

I guess the most popular television show was Flipper. Flipper was filmed throughout Miami, the Glades and elsewhere. Although the interior shots were filmed in L.A., the exteriors were almost always South Florida.

Thunder and Lightning was filmed mostly on the Loop road. Starring David Carradine (Kung Fu) and Kate Jackson (Charlie's Angels) among others it's a film about moonshine running and it's just cheesy enough to get a laugh or two! Several scenes were filmed inside our family bar, The Gator Hook Lodge, and another watering hole called Sullivan's where an old friend Gator Bill Scholerman (R.I.P.) wrestled a gator for money (didn't everyone?).

There's Gone Fishin' with Joe Pesci and Danny Glover that was filmed in Everglades City where I attended school for a while, it also featured a hysterical scene at Monroe Station on the Loop.

The Loop Road and Big Cypress have been favorite places for specific scenes in film and television for decades because of its beauty and mystery. I could go on seemingly forever on this subject but I really do want you, the reader, to learn more about our incredible home and its history...

There have been dozens if not hundreds of major and independent films and television shows made in the Glades, way too many for me to mention here but there's always Google and Youtube.

Next month I'm going to talk a bit about Florida's old roadside attractions pre Disney in our next issue.

That's my Flori-Duh!

Rigg's Outpost FISHING REPORT NOVEMBER FORECAST

By Captain Pompano Rich

This year we spend Thanksgiving on November 23rd. Consider a trip South to Melbourne. Brevard is family oriented to perusing the beaches, the estuary and the inlet. The downtown is diverse with cultural restaurants and antique shops. Plus one important landmark: Rigg's Outpost, a marina, tackle shop and a fresh seafood shop called HornBelly.

A phenomenal find. Lots of folks end up with a lesson and become navigators. Driving a pontoon right out of this private lagoon. Safety equipment will be provided. Understanding the channel markers and colored buoys are imperative to a safe trip.

Entering the main lagoon you will witness endless miles of mangrove lined coastlines and small driftwood gravel islands. Everywhere are beautiful porpoises and schools of bait being attacked by gamefish. Snook, our southern strippers, are literally diving bombing on top of menhaden and finger mullet. Get that tour charter feeling, like an explorer!

Drive a few minutes to the beach. Melbourne Beach is lined with resorts and beach shops; plus a beautiful Pier. Personally I head south to the bend in the road thru a small town called Indialantic; a surfing haven. A natural swell area for sliding the waves. But I'm looking for fish. Coconut and Ponce DeLeon parks are next. Some fishing there but mostly beach goers.

You will find anglers on the beaches that are remote to the populous. Silvery Spanish mackerel and bluefish will be thrashing the waves and eating everything in site. Day one is for scouting. It's time to assess the possibilities of tomorrow's adventure.

When prepping for your trip, pack a couple of 2 piece spinning rod combos. At Rigg's Outpost the terminal tackle is focused on the time of the year. A pod of live bait tanks are loaded with the baits and crustacea you need to catch these awesome fish.

The beaches get nuts when the silvery tourists show up. The pompano is the prize! They love sandfleas, live shrimp and clams. I provide the shop with specifically designed rigs called Pomp Catcher's. Don't forget to pick up scented chum strips designed to fish without bait. Ask for Fishgum! It works...

There is so much more but a single page is too short to pay proper homage to our barrier island. Visit Rigg's. We're here to make your vacation special!
