Good-Bye, Good Night 2023! You have been what we made out of it. Let's look forward to 2024. The Brevard Live team wishes you a Happy New Year.

Jim Morrison's 80th Birthday

Last year several iconic rock stars turned 80 years old: Mick Jagger, Keith Richard, Roger Waters... and if he'd be still alive, Jim Morrison from The Doors would have turned 80. Jim Morrison had deep connections to Melbourne, and while there are few vage confirmations where exactly he was born, we do know that it was in Melbourne. Past December a few events were held, one at Space Coast Harley Davidson, in honor to remember his birthday on December 8th, 1943.

Randy Bennett (photo), proprietor of downtown's Hurricane Creek Saloon bought a painting last month which now hangs in the club. There's even a Facebook Group called "Jim Morrison MUST Be Recognized by the City of Melbourne, Florida!!!" Check it out.

Art & Music Festival

Sebastian's beautiful Riverview Park is the setting for the Sebastian Riverfront Fine Art and Music Festival held the weekend of Saturday, January 20th from 10 am to 5 pm and Sunday, January 21st from 10 am to 4 pm. This is the 22nd annual festival. Over 100 juried artists will have their work on display and for sale.

There will be food and beverage vendors along with a nice line up of music. On Saturday the featured bands are Purr Dogs Mash Up at 10 am, followed by Dottie Kelly w/ Darryl Raines (photo) at 2 pm. This duo is known for their Motown, Blues, Soul, R&B, Rock N Roll and Reggae; they made it to the finals in Memphis on May 10, 2022 at the IBC (International Blues Challenge). Dottie sang in a Baptist church, which is where she developed her talent for singing. She would later follow her Aunt Betty Padgett, a well-known singer out of Ft. Lauderdale, FL, to her various shows. Aunt Betty Padgett eventually asked Dottie to sing background with her and Joey Gilmore. From that point on, Dottie has traveled to various states, and opened for many artists from around the world. Those experiences mixed with pure raw talent, have made her a bona fide soul singer.

DUB MASSIVE

For the 18th year the Sandbar is hosting a big reggae event called Dub Massive, created and organized by no other than Local Celebrity Mark Longenecker. If you are a reggae fan with appreciation and respect for the scene, you are familiar with the performers at Dub Massive. "Reggae music has its own culture and DJs are a huge part of this," explains Selector Longenecker. "During the huge dance hall parties in Jamaica, it's the DJs who are pumping up the crowd." Unlike traditional reggae which invites you to rock in place or just sit back and chill, dancehall is all about the moves. Dancehall music, aka ragga or dub, had its genesis in the political turbulence of the late 1970s and became Jamaica's dominant music in the 1980s and '90s. The DJs have become sound creators, "and we bring this Jamaican vibe to the Sandbar once a year," says Longenecker who is a respected graphic and tattoo artist and owner of Endless Summer Tattoo in Cocoa Beach. In 2014, he was a competitor in the TV show Ink Master.

A surfboard painted by Longenecker will be raffled off, t-shirts and art prints are for sale. Besides Selector Longenecker you will see and hear DJ Alphawave, SheWxlf, CLioness, Dvcati, Lights Out Sound, DJ Redi, Unity Sound, LanceO, Apache, and Frankie Sly, Dub Massive benefits Surfers for Autism.

LEE GREENWOOD

If you lived during the 80s, you couldn't miss that song. This - along with Bruce Springsteen's "Born In The USA" - were played on the airwaves at least once every hour. We are talking about the most patriotic song ever written besides the National Anthem: "God Bless The U.S.A." by Lee Greenwood.

"God Bless the USA" went far beyond what Greenwood expected when he wrote it in the back of his tour bus in 1983. The song has been in the top five on the country singles charts three times (1991, 2001 and 2003), giving it the distinction of being the only song in any genre of music to achieve that feat. It was also #1 on the pop charts after 9/11/01. In addition, CBS News voted "God Bless The U.S.A." the most recognizable patriotic song in America.

In 2011, Beyonce offered her version of "God Bless the U.S.A." as a download, with the proceeds going to the 9/11 firefighters fund in NYC. It has been performed by contestants on "American Idol" twice & was the winning song in the 2011 "Dancing with the Stars" competition on ABC.

Lee Greenwood has won numerous industry awards including, Male Vocalist of the Year from the Academy of Country Music in 1983, two Male Vocalist of the Year awards from the Country Music Association in 1983 & 1984 and a Grammy for Top Male Vocal Performance in 1985 for "I.O.U.". The CMA also named "God Bless The U.S.A." its Song of the Year in 1985.

Music has always been a part of Lee Greenwood's life. He started playing the piano when he was seven and the saxophone at 12. In junior high, he started his first group called the Moonbeams. His sister Patricia was the piano player in the band. By the time he finished High School he played most all the instruments in the orchestra and was the Drum Major for the marching band.

Greenwood was born in Los Angeles California & finished high school in Sacramento in June 1960. He passed on track & music scholarships to the College of the Pacific along with a professional baseball career to pursue his passion for music. He also elected to skip his high school graduation ceremony to begin work at the Golden Hotel & Casino in Reno Nevada with his own band, the "Apollos". That turned out to be a great choice.

The California native was discovered in 1979 by Larry McFaden, who saw him performing in a show at the Nugget Casino in Sparks, Nevada. Larry was the bass player and bandleader for Mel Tillis. He brought the singer to Nashville and got him signed to the Halsey Agency, who booked The Oak Ridge Boys. He began working with producer Jerry Crutchfield who would record with Lee for the next 20 years.

With seven #1 songs & 25 charted singles to his credit, choosing songs proved to be a success for Greenwood. His country hits include: "It Turns Me Inside Out", "Ring On Her Finger Time On Her Hands", "She's Lying", "I Don't Mind the Thorns If You're The Rose", "Dixie Road", "Somebody's Gonna Love You", "Going Going Gone", "You Got A Good Love Comin'", "Fools Gold", and "Mornin Ride" while he already garnered several crossover hits such as "Touch & Go Crazy", "IOU" and the duet with Barbara Mandrell, "To Me".

Greenwood says; "USA is the song I always felt the need to write. I wanted to have something that would unite Americans from coast to coast and to instill pride back in the United States. The song represents my family, my community and those men and women who have paid the price for the freedoms we all love and enjoy."

President George W. Bush appointed Greenwood to serve on the National Endowment of the Arts Council and his appointment was U.S. Senate approved. That Presidential Appointment continued under President Obama and President Trump.

Lee Greenwood, famous country-music singer, known as America's Patriot, along with Space Coast Daily, is challenging Brevard to bring the U.S veteran community together, to enjoy a one-night-only concert experience with Lee Greenwood on January 19th on the opening night of the 2024 Space Coast Key Lime Pie Festival. Therefore Veterans and their immediate family have free admission.

The Space Coast Key Lime Pie Festival will also be open on Saturday and Sunday, January 20th and 21st from 10 am until 6 pm; admission will be just $6 for adults. Children under 2 years of age will receive free admission. Pets on a leash are welcomed. The festival is a weekend-long, outdoor, family festival, designed to create an environment for people to enjoy affordable, healthy and wholesome fun. "In Florida, we like to celebrate the things that make the Sunshine State unique. Citrus, eccentrics, people & pie. Our outdoor celebrations are fun & unforgettable. Come on down to Florida, the birthplace of Key Lime Pie, for a little taste and you'll see what we mean," said Giles Malone, partner with Space Coast Daily. For more info go to www.SpaceCoastDaily.com

General admission tickets to the concert are $15 each and include admission to the Space Coast Key Lime Pie Festival on January 19th. Festival gates will open from 5 until 10 pm, with the concert beginning at 7:30 pm. Tickets are available at www.Eventbrite.com

Ding Dong Deficit

Hippay New Year, everyone. Here's hoping you didn't get too HOLIDAZED this past season. Hopefully, we ring in the new year with many aspirations and ambitions to be realized over the coming year. Now, every year I say I haven't made any New Year's resolutions because in 1998 my resolution was to not make any more resolutions ever, so as not to quell any unrealistic dreams and goals. Well, I've decided to change my views on this by making resolutions that are realistic and viable. For example, instead of making a plan to lose 50 pounds, I plan to lose 1 pound. It's realistic, and I have a year to accomplish that. I figure I can do this by cutting out 1 Ring Ding a week. Something achievable and sure to work. Here are some of my other resolutions that I think I can do.

So, Ring Dings cost about $3.88 for an 8 pack. That's about 45.8 cents each. If I eat 1 a day, except for the one I'm cutting out, that's 6 Ring Dings a week, so I will have 2 left over. As you can see, this surplus of Ring Dings can garner some real cash! If I eat one leftover, and buy another 8 pack, I will have 9 of them. I eat 6 the next week, and have 3 left over. Then I buy another pack and eat 6, I will have 5 left over. After that, following the same procedure, I will have 7 left over, and then start over again. By my calculations, cutting out one ring ding a week I will save about $25.22 over the course of the year. That's not going to put me in a higher tax bracket, but it's a start. And maybe I'll lose one pound! It's a win-win situation.

I will attempt to achieve financial freedom this year. Unfortunately, my great Ring Ding caper won't cut it. If I put the $25.22 into an interest bearing savings account at the current rates of say 1.8% compounded quarterly, it will take me about 957.61 years to accumulate $500,000. That's way too long, obviously, so maybe a certificate of deposit would be better. If I get a 20 year CD at 3% and put in my Ring Ding money every year, by the time the CD matures, I'll have $2,698.34. Now we're talking! When I'm 87 I can cash in! I wonder how far in advance you can make reservations for a weekend in the Keys? I'm ready!

Now, I'm not unrealistic. I know it's going to take more than my great Ring Ding caper to achieve financial freedom, so I have a back-up plan, too. I figure if I use one less teaspoon of half and half in my morning, not only will it help me lose one pound, but can be another cash cow. Currently, I drink 2 cups of coffee a day, so I would be saving 2 teaspoons a day, which would be 732 teaspoons a year. That's 3.82 quarts a year! The average price for half and half is about $2.60 - $3.40 per quart, so let's average that to about $3. That makes a grand total savings of about $11.46 a year in total savings. Added to my Ring Ding savings, that's a whopping $36.68 a year. If I put all this into a CD at 3% compounded quarterly, I would get about $3,768.73. Now we're talking! Give me a room on the pool!

Now what if I added in smoking one less cigarette a day. That would be a savings of 365 cigarettes. That's about 18.25 packs a year! Let's say an average pack costs $5 here. That would be an average savings of about $91.25 a year! Hope this won't put me up a tax bracket, But if I put all this into the aforementioned CD, that's $127.93 every year, for 20 years, compounded quarterly at 3%, that would be $14,303.63 by the time I'm 87. Woo-hoo! Give me a room by the pool with a jacuzzi!

You know, all this high finance has made me hungry, but having a Ding Dong and a cup of coffee now would blow my budgetary priorities. Ok, this is getting way too complex. A Ding Dong deficit would definitely change my bottom line. I need to do something simpler that's still achievable. I have a better idea. How about if this year, we vow to be kinder to our neighbors, kinder to those in need, kinder to the environment, kinder to the infirmed or aged. Yes, that's a much simpler calculation and we can all do it together. Let's fill our world with love. Now that's compound interest!

Five Questions with Andrew Walker

By Steve Keller

Andrew Walker is a music scene mainstay. Musician, singer, sound engineer, educator. Add father to his resume and his time becomes more precious. We talked to the man of many talents in this month's 5 Questions...

What's a typical day look like in the life of Andrew Walker?

AW: In the past couple years I have become a family man. I have also been able to revolve my life around music. It's like an infinity loop; first half of the day is spent with family, half of those days it's just me and my son Logan who turns 2 in March, and the second half I'm either teaching at school beachside or playing gigs around town on most Friday and Saturday nights. My only days off are Sundays and I spend those with my fiancé Taylor and my step-son Liam.

When do you have time to write new music?

AW: Man, I haven't really been writing unfortunately. Working with kids and playing gigs doesn't leave me with much free time. The time I do get I like to spend with my family. I have been jamming a bit with my bro Adam Azar and our buddy Briston, teaching myself piano, and we've been writing some music. I haven't really made much of an effort to write lyrics though. I have a few notes in my phone, but nothing prolific happening over here I'm sorry to report. I wish I had a Robert Hunter (Grateful Dead lyricist) to help me out, because the musical ideas are abundant, I hear music in my head, not so much words.

What is your take on the music scene?

AW: There's definitely a void that needs to be filled. I really miss the street parties in Downtown Melbourne and the pop-up shows, but these venues and managers have either changed or don't exist anymore. One person can make a big difference. Some semi-private festival shows happening in the southern tip of our county are keeping the vibe alive. SCMF is really cool, unable to happen this year but hopefully next year we'll see its return. The Sound Waves shows that I produced along with Todd Kennedy were good for the scene, I'd like to see those return even if I have to train an audio engineer to run that studio. It has sat in the dark pretty much for the past 5 plus years. All in all, it's a very tough business running a band, and that's what a lot of "fans" fail to understand. I'd love to play in a band again, but lucratively it's not feasible for me to feed my family when I make 3 times the amount playing solo looping acoustic guitar and djembe, at the same time bringing half the amount of gear, and half the load in and load out. I used to be cool with "not doing it for the money" but it's different with a family now. I guess my point is that it's a shame that that's even a saying, we should be able to do it and make decent money because at the end of the day, it is a business. I gotta give it up to my friends in TruPhonic and Drifting Roots for getting out on the road, producing albums, great merch, playing big festivals, that's what it takes to be a successful band hailing from the 321. I do think it will get better soon, I might get into event organization and talent booking in the future.

What do you have planned for 2024 music wise?

AW: My gigs pretty much book themselves. I usually play once a month at most of my spots, which usually leaves about two Fridays a month open for random bookings, but half of my Fridays and all of my Saturdays are pretty much on auto-pilot and most of 2024 is already booked. I would love to play in a band honestly. It is much more fun for sure. Maybe once my boys are older and not so exhausting, I'll have some extra time, energy, and effort to put forth in that direction.

If you were stranded on a deserted island what 3 groups/cds would you want to have with you?

AW: Grateful Dead - Europe '72. Pappadosio - T.E.T.I.O.S. and Minus the Bear - Farewell. No CDs though. Vinyl please.

Whiskey JuJu

By Steve LeClair

Changes seem to happen quite often in bands. Ozzy leaves Sabbath and goes solo as the band continues with Ronnie James Dio; Dickie Betts leaves the Allman Bros and gets replaced with various other guitarists, and they continue for many years after; David Lee Roth is replaced with Sammy Hagar and Van Halen continued to rock the world. Though it may not be the world stage, it's not much different on the local scene as bands change personnel quite often. It recently happened to one of our busiest bands. Whiskey JuJu had a member leave, and it's as though they haven't missed a beat (no pun intended). With newest member Dave Steele, the band continues to play a wide variety of rock music but not changing up too much of what they already do. Expect to hear hit songs that are upbeat and ones everyone remembers. They entertain you covering bands like Matchbox 20, Gin Blossoms, Journey, Kid Rock, Queen, Tom Petty, Sweet, Jet and many more. The band has been together since late 2020 and had their first show Jan 16, 2021. Put together by Bob Wenzloff, who does vocals and is the bassist, he had moved here from Texas and starting by placing an ad in BandMix. His vision was to have three singing musicians in order to maximize the most music but staying within the concept of a cover band with a set list heavy into the 80's and 90's. They have tried to do a little of everything and anything while putting their own stamp on the songs whether it's country, reggae, British Invasion or fun dance music like Katrina and the Waves. The band name came about from mixing some terms learned on a ghost tour of all things and a band members' job. The original drummer worked as a whiskey distributor, and it was shared on a ghost tour in Savannah that before midnight existed Good Ju Ju and after midnight Bad Ju Ju... so from that the name Whiskey JuJu came.

Let's meet the band! Bob Wenzloff is on Lead Vocals and is the Bassist. He's band business leader and original founding member. Bob is a long-time musician who has played in original bands, tribute bands, and for the most recent history, great cover bands. Bob's first original band was Fugitive who played in the Chicago area and experienced much local success. This was the most critical time of his life as he met his future wife Denise who he married and partnered with to manage all of the business behind the band(s). He then went on to tour with a Small Label signed 80's band called Barracuda. Opening for Molly Hatchet, Frankie Goes to Hollywood, Enuff Z'Nuff, Roxy Blue and touring with Precious Metal were some of the highlights in the early part of his career. He returned to Chicago and played in one of the most popular local bands in the area named Insomnia. It was the foundation of the concept for what is now Whiskey JuJu. That inspiration was in the style of the hair bands of the 80s, but it has grown and changed some, and now is driving more low end and groove of bands. This makes the perfect fit for a trio. Another thing is that strong vocals are a must for every band he has been a part of and Whiskey JuJu is no exception, you can guarantee a wide range of songs to be belted out by this bassist.

Alex Herman handles the percussion. As a trained professional, he had played for years as the Band Director of Carnival Cruise lines performing band. Alex has played in front of thousands of international guests as he worked live 7 days a week for 7 years traveling from country to country. This experience gives him a huge catalog of great songs to perform and allows him to understand the best ways to get a crowd pumped up and have a great time. He embraces technology and adds music sequences and samples into his array of skills to enhance all the music he performs. He is currently also a music instructor at the Orlando School of Rock. He enjoys all styles of music, and the best part of performing is getting to experience new songs that he has never had the chance to play. He comments: "It's great to be a part of a working band that plays such up-beat music and has a great time with their fans."

Dave Steele handles Lead Vocals and is the Guitarist. Early in his career, Dave spent several years touring the New England club circuit with the original Boston Brats, performing 5-7 nights a week. He then went on to partner with guitarist Joe Stump of Alcatraz to form Trash Broadway and had a successful international release on Torrid/Important Records produced by Chris Anderson (Cheap Trick, Todd Rundgren). He then joined forces with Boston legend Casey Lindstrom (Ric Ocasek, New Models) to record and perform with the band Love It To Death. Dave earned his BPS Summa Cum Laude from Berklee College of Music and, as a product specialist for Bose Corporation, he lectured and performed throughout North America and Asia as well as appearing regularly on live network television in the US and UK. Prior to his recent move to Florida, David sang and played throughout the Northeast with popular trio, The Chills.

The band is always looking for more shows and hopes to expand to bigger events. Interesting fun fact... the band has performed at an Airplane Hanger Museum, a Motor Speedway (Bradenton), and on a pontoon boat at the Bird Island Sandbar. Bob joked, "we're looking for a gig on a train!" You can also find the band supporting local charities such as Sigfest, Nugefest, Children's Hunger Project, Toys for Tots, and No Bad Days Foundation to name a few. All band business, promotion, merchandise, social media, digital flyers, photography, live video and publicity is managed by Denise Wenzloff. FIREFALL Concert

Reviewed
by Matt Bretz

Under the direction of Roland Guilarte the Brevard Music Group has been responsible for bringing a wide variety of fantastic artists to our area over the years. Every show is unique and professional with a warm hometown kind of feel that adds a special shine you just can't get anywhere else. Last month Roland pulled it off once again by presenting the legendary Firefall in concert at Florida Tech's Gleason Center Auditorium. If you don't remember these guys just flip on the classic rock station and give it a minute—no doubt one of their hits will come on before too long. Firefall has a list of former members longer than a Walgreens receipt, but the current lineup—headed up by Jock Bartley (the only remaining original member of the group) plays everything as if it was their own. You would be hard pressed to find more heart and soul in another band of musicians.

Before each song Hartley stepped to the mic and told its origin story with all the loving nostalgia of proud father talking about his kids. We got to hear what it was like at every turn of the road on the band's path from 1974 up to today. It was endearing and drew the audience in making it feel less like a formal concert and more like watching a group of friends jam in the living room.

Taking lead vocals on most of the songs was Steven Weinmeister who also played both rhythm and lead guitars from time to time. Weinmeister has a silky rasp to his tenor that carries the lead and simultaneously allows other voices to fill out a harmony when called for. Hartley joked that Weinmeister had been in the band for 25 years and quit before returning in 2022.

Sandy Ficca held down the beat just like he's been doing since 1984. Solid as a rock that Sandy.

Jim Waddell deserved the MVP award for taking care of keys, flute, saxophone and harmonies. A huge highlight of the night was a sickeningly killer three way solo between Waddell on sax and Weinmeister and Hartley on guitars during 'Mexico.'

The newest member of the group is John Bisaha on bass and vocals who joined up in 2022. You may remember John from his time with John Waite in the Babys back in 1977. And if that doesn't impress you, check out the long list of other artists and bands he's played with - it's a bit of mind bomb. Throughout the night the band killed it song after severely well written song, owed mostly to OGs Rick Roberts, of the Flying Burrito Brothers, and Larry Burnett. According to Hartley, before they even had a name for the band, they had over 20 original songs they were working with. Their set list of course included all of their hits like 'Staying with It', 'Headed for a Fall', 'Cinderella', 'Strange Way' and of course 'Just Remember I Love You' and their big top ten song 'You Are the Woman.'

Let's talk about the crowd for a second. Florida Tech is a dry campus so there was no bar service—and lets be honest that's what typically loosens up a concert audience, but you would have never known by how receptive and wonderful everyone was. On top of that Roland and BMG have built up a following of real music lovers so his crowds are always a good time.

Firefall ended the night with a short Christmas time sing-a-long of Silent Night and a pepped up version of Jingle Bells. It wasn't my favorite part of the night, but the crowd loved it and sang their hearts out with the band.

After the show the entire band sat out in the lobby signing autographs, taking pictures and shaking hands. You don't see a lot of classic bands doing this anymore - and I love it. I was actually afraid meet and greets would be a thing of the past after COVID, but Firefall is leading by example. If you haven't been to one of BMG's events do yourself a favor and check out who's upcoming on their roster and see a show. You will be glad you did.
