THANK YOU!

Who's the best band? Back in the founder-days of Brevard Live Magazine a clubowner gave me some insight: "The best bands," he said, "are those that play for $300 and end the night with a bar tab for $500." And there I had it - the cold-hearted truth! Thank God we weren't looking for the best bands for the Brevard Live Music Awards! It was a popularity contest to see who are Brevard's favorite entertainers. We cannot say this enough!

As we are working on this month's issue we're still impressed by the impact of this year's sold-out BMAs. The team spirit we experienced was overwhelming, the creativity of every contributor simply amazing. So many Thank You's are due. There are the co-producers - Ana Kirby, Joe Calautti (music), Mark Brasel (sound), and our gracious MC John Leach with rock-lady-assistant Brenda. The presenters, the performers, the house band - it all came together like magic. We experienced some social media frenzy thanks to our Facebook friends. Brevard's Talk Radio WMEL conducted interviews - a big Thank You to John Harper, our hometown voice. A pleasant surprise was the participation of Space Coast Daily. Giles Melone showed up with his wife Allison and his son Michael who was equipped with a camera. They filmed the awards show and posted the winners immediately to their SCDaily FB page - just like an online live remote in real time. Nice touch!

Another hard working guy on the job was Scott Boggs from www.brevardmusic-clover.com. He filmed the entire evening and posted it online. A special thank you to photographer Wendy Michl who shot all our BMAs-photos. Even four lovely "East Coast Bombshells" showed up and helped as ushers. The After Party hosted by Charles and Lissa and our friends from Spanks was a Super Jam. We also say thank you to Charlie and Debby of Jazz-BluesFlorida.com, an online publication. They traveled all the way from Gainesville and visited the BMAs.

A special Thank You goes to Kenny Michaels for the Sam Jam at the Pineda Inn and John Wilson for the All Star Jam at Siggy's. Both events raised funds for Brevard Music Aid Inc.

Original Music Series will start on Sunday, October 20th, 7-11pm, at Lou's Blues. We pushed it back a week because Charles and Lissa are getting married on Sunday, October 13th at Lou's Blues and we want to be there. Yes, it will be a public affair and everyone is invited to this Rock'n'Wedding.

Come Together!

Heike Clarke, Publisher/Editor

October 5, 5-11pm, Riverfront Park,
COCOA VILLAGE
OKTOBERFEST

The Cocoa Village Oktoberfest is all about German Tradition starting with the Oom-pah music at 5pm. There will be the traditional Beer Garden and tents stocked with cold Yuengling, Yuengling Oktoberfest, and Warsteiner. The festival also features full liquor bar and wine tents along with several food vendors offering bratwurst, sauerkraut, pretzels, and other German style food.

Several contests are held. The Brats Eating contest from 7:30 to 8 pm invites people to eat as many bratwurst as possible in 30 seconds. The prize for the winner is $200, and there is no entry fee. The Miss Oktoberfest contest will feature ladies in German style outfits. Three rounds of judging will determine the winners who receive $500 for first place, $200 for second, and $100 for third place. Contestants can sign up at Facebook/CocoaOktoberfest where they can message and submit their photo and contact number. The judging will take place between 8:45 to 9:30 pm. There will be a live remote by 101.1 WJRR with Taco Bob. Other games and rides are available, also a $500 corn hole tournament.

After two hours of Om-pah music, a quite different band will take the stage - the BREVARD BUSKING COALITION, Brevard's Entertainer of the Year 2013 as proclaimed at the recent Brevard Live Music Awards. These very entertaining musicians will take the stage from 8 to 8:45 pm, and from 9:30 to 11 pm. And while they might not win the "Miss Oktoberfest" title, they certainly would win any other costume contest.

There's one more very unique attraction: The mayor of Cocoa, Mister Henry Parrish, will be in a dunk tank! Yes, if you like you can "Dunk The Mayor" - an opportunity you might not have too often! For more information go to facebook.com/CocoaOktoberfest.

MISHKA

Surfer, musician, reggae artist Mishka released his first self-titled album Mishka in 1999 and had a hit single in the UK with "Give You All The Love". He is a free spirit, whose lyrics, melodies and grooves are reflections of the roots and culture in which he grew up. Mishka's music is Caribbean at the core, and yet it's an eclectic sound that contains many elements and genres. He has released four albums to date including the eponymous Mishka in 1999, One Tree in 2005, Above the Bones in 2009, and Talk About in 2010 all of which have received critical acclaim around the world. In 2009 Mishka released a special digital only collection of acoustic songs entitled Guy With a Guitar. This led to iTunes naming the release the Best Singer Songwriter Collection of the Year.

His latest release, the Ocean Is My Potion EP, is a journey back to his musical roots. Like Mishka himself, the album is imprinted with the sounds and emotions of the islands, with influences that range from the heavy bass of Reggae to the gulf and western stylings of Jimmy Buffett who he met when he was five year-old delivering fresh croissants to Jimmy's sailboat in the French West Indies. The musician and young Mishka formed a fast bond. When preparing to record his latest album, it led him back to his old friend from the islands - Jimmy Buffett.

CHICAGO

Chicago was founded in 1967 in - Chicago! During the 70s and 80s this self-described “rock and roll band with horns” delivered a steady stream of hits. Second only to The Beach Boys in Billboard singles and albums chart success among American bands, Chicago is one of the longest-running and most successful rock groups in history. They have sold over 38 million units in the US, with 22 gold, 18 platinum, and 8 multi-platinum albums. Over the course of their career they have had five number-one albums and 21 top-ten singles.

They started out as a group of six calling themselves “The Big Thing.” While gaining some success as a cover band, the group began working on original songs. In June 1968, they moved to Los Angeles, California under the guidance of their manager James William Guercio, and signed with Columbia Records. It was then that they changed their name to “Chicago Transit Authority”.

Their first record was released April 1969. The eponymous The Chicago Transit Authority was a double album, which is rare for a first release. It sold over one million copies by 1970, and was awarded a platinum disc. The album included a number of pop-rock songs: “Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?”, “Beginnings”, “Questions 67 and 68”, and “I’m a Man”, which were later released as singles. When the actual Chicago Transit Authority threatened legal action soon after the album’s release, the band’s name was shortened to Chicago.

As of May 2013, four of the six surviving founding members (major songwriters Robert Lamm and James Pankow, along with Lee Loughnane and Walter Parazaider) have remained, providing continuity since the beginning. Jason Scheff has been with the band for 26 years, Tris Imboden for 23 years, Keith Howland for 18 years, Lou Pardini for 4 years, and Walfredo Reyes for 1 year.

ROCK LEGENDS BAND

This is an all star band featuring some of southern rock’s most popular artists. Remember Foghat, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Outlaws, Blackfoot? Then you know the star connection of vocalist/guitarist Charlie Huhn, guitarist Charlie Hargrett, guitarist Jimmy Sexton, bassist Greg T. Walker, and drummer Jeremy Robinson.

There’s frontman Charlie Huhn who joined Ted Nugent’s band in 1978. Huhn replaced band member Derek St. Holmes, and was thrust immediately into the spotlight. At the time he joined Ted Nugent, it was one of the hottest acts in the world. After a brief stint with Irish guitar legend Gary Moore, Huhn joined the second reincarnation of Humble Pie. Since 2000, Charlie Huhn has been the lead vocalist for another classic rock act, Foghat. Bassist Greg T. Walker had a 2 year stint with Lynyrd Skynyrd in 1970/71 before he became a founding member of the original Blackfoot together with guitarist Charlie Hargrett. Guitarist Jimmy Sexton has been a musician resident with the Artimus Pyle Band, Southern Rock’s Finest, Banner Thomas Band, and a founding member of Ghostriders. Drummer Jeremy Robinson rounds up this line-up of Rock Legends. He used to be the former drummer for Jimmie Van Zant - yes, that another talented cousin of Southern Rock’s royalty.

REO SPEEDWAGON

This rock band traces its beginning back to the University of Illinois in Champaign, Illinois, when Neal Doughty set out to form a band which he named REO Speedwagon, from the REO Speed Wagon, a flatbed truck Doughty had studied in transportation history, and the initials are those of its founder Ransom E. Olds. Rather than pronouncing REO as a single word as the motor company did, they chose to spell out the name with the individual letters each pronounced. An ad in the school paper got them their first job, a fraternity party that turned into a food fight.

The band cultivated a following during the 1970s and achieved significant commercial success throughout the 1980s. Hi Infidelity (1980) contained four US Top 40 hits and is the group's best-selling album, with over ten million copies sold. Over the course of its career, the band has sold more than 40 million records and has charted thirteen Top 40 hits, including the number ones "Keep On Loving You" and "Can't Fight This Feeling".

By the end of the 1980s, the band's popularity was waning. Members were changing and by September 1988, Neal Doughty remained as the only original member of the band. The commercial failure of the band's newer material with its revised lineup demanded a change in marketing strategy. As a consequence, Epic began re-releasing recordings from older albums with updated artwork and design. From 1995 to the present, the label released over a dozen compilation albums featuring greatest hits, including 1999's The Ballads.

The band released a self-financed album entitled Find Your Own Way Home in April 2007. Though it did not chart as an album, it produced two singles. REO Speedwagon continues to tour regularly, performing mostly their classic hits.

NATIVE RHYTHMS FESTIVAL

The Indian River Flute Circle and Native Heritage Gathering present the fifth annual gathering of the Native Rhythms Festival. This three day festival during Native American Heritage Month honors the culture of the indigenous peoples of the Americas through music, and especially the music of the Native American Flute. During the festival weekend the amphitheater stage will feature a continuous flow of top live entertainment. As in the past, the "headline" performers include GRAMMY, NAMMY (Native American Music Award), and IZZY (Indian Summer Music Award) winners and nominees.

There is two-time GRAMMY winner (2006 and 2008), Robert Mirabal (photo). He lives with his family at the foot of sacred Taos Mountain in northern New Mexico. Maintaining a traditional life, keeping the centuries-old customs of the Taos Pueblo people, Robert has been described as a Native American "Renaissance man" - musician, composer, painter, master craftsman, poet, actor, screenwriter, horseman and farmer - and travels extensively playing his music all over the world.

Other performers are Wind & Fire (Mark Holland & N. Scott Robinson), Mark Holland, N. Scott Robinson, Scott August, Jan Seiden & Friends, Jonny Lipford, Randy Granger, Dock Green Silverhawk, Ed WindDancer, and many more.

The 2013 Native Rhythms Festival will once again conduct three separate competitions: Flute Makers Competition, Flute Players Competition and Artists Competition. There will be different free work shops and a vendor village. Festival hours are 10 am to 10 pm on Friday and Saturday, and 10 am to 5:30 pm on Sunday.

Letting The Hair Down At the 10th Annual Brevard Live Music Awards

UNFORGETTABLE

It was the 10th annual Brevard Live Music Awards and it had to be special. After all, 10 years are a long time, and longevity is not synonymous with show biz. But if you had even the slightest doubt that this year's awards ceremony could be anything but impressive, you don't know Brevard County! Our ever-evolving, creative and talented music scene has been showcasing itself every year on this stage. By the time we open the curtain for the Brevard Live Music Awards bands have rallied, music fans have voted, and some of the finest talent has come together to contribute to this glamorous event that highlights live music in this county. The goal is to produce the best possible show and make it - UNFORGETTABLE!

There were those special moments: When Shelly McLoney, Tammy Haun, and Leslie Mitchell from Bittersweet harmonized the National Anthem, it silenced the exited audience within a second. When Master of Cermony John Leach let his hair down, we knew this was rock'n'roll. When rock star and former UFO-guitarist Paul Chapman announced to "moon" Jack Starr in honor of the Ambassador Lifetime Achievement Award that he would present to Jack, few of us expected that to happen... "This was a true heavy metal moment," declared Jack who was visibly moved by this honor. And then there was the moment when Joe Calautti realized that the "Hometown Legend," who co-producer Ana Kirby was talking about just feet away, was HIM. His facial expression was priceless. - It's true! Joe, despite being part of the production team, was left clueless, and he was in for the surprise.

And then there was the sad moment, right after the applause for all the gracious sponsors that made this event happen, when Ron Chabot of Budweiser/Carroll Distributing took the stage to remember his best friend David "Siggie" Sigafos who had passed away just two weeks earlier. Siggie had been a Grand Old Man in our local music scene. His encouragement and sponsorship helped creating the very first Brevard Live Music Awards.

But it's those live performances that make this show so special. Adding sound expert Mark Brasel to the production team opened the door to full bands, full sound, and a more intense production (despite a few hiccups at the beginning of the show). Gary Kirby performed a song written by his father. It was fine and gentle - "Chasing Rainbows". Then Billy Lee and his band A Touch of Soul performed a song that the soul singer recorded 6 years ago with the late Billy Van Riper and that hasn't been played live since then. Chuck Van Riper took over his twin-brother's guitar part and delivered another special BMA-moment. Katty Pleasant showed her original side. She embodies the term entertainer whether it is belting out songs from the 80s or commanding the stage with a song of her own.

To set the record straight! When we talked about which bands to feature on our stage, the nomination phase for "Favorite" musicians wasn't even completed. The Brevard Live Music Awards have always featured original talent to showcase Brevard's creative scene, and the Brevard Busking Coalition has been an insider secret ever since they won the Original Music Series in January 2013. Slowly but surely they have converted the masses one kazoo at a time. MC John Leach announced them stating: "There's a phrase in life when you're either on the bus, or off the bus. These guys OWN the bus!" When those "Buskers" finished their set, the crowd went wild, well, most of them. Then came the announcement of the Entertainer Of The Year 2013: "Brevard Busking Coalition!" And John Leach's comment: "C'mon guys, give someone else a chance. It looks on stage as if San Francisco exploded!"

Congratulations to all winners and nominees. It takes every one of you to make this event happen every year. All participants worked hard, had fun, and left the event feeling rewarded by the talent this county has to offer. At the end of the day, several thousands of dollars were raised for Brevard Music Aid Inc., a non-profit organization that helps musicians in need. - Everybody WON!

Syria for Dummies

I'm sure you've all been following the Syrian story since it's the only story on the news these days. Well, how did this whole situation start and why do we care? First let's take a brief look at how it got like this:

In March 2011, a group of pro-democracy students in the town of Deraa painted their school walls with "revolutionary" slogans. They were arrested and tortured. This led to a protest in the streets, which was met with the authorities killing four people. The next day, another civilian was killed at the funeral for the victims. This in turn led to the people demanding the overthrow of Bashar Assad. Now, the Assad regime, who had been in power since the 70's, tried to placate the masses by ending a 48 year state of emergency and drafting a new constitution, which is all well and good except they kept using force against any protesters. In April, a U.N. mandated cease fire was violated by both sides. Massacres by the Assad regime continued.

As the international community was demanding an end to the violence, opposition forces put together the "National Coalition for Syrian Revolutionary and Opposition Forces", which consisted of members from Syria and abroad, to become the country's sole representative of the opposition and to manage all financial and possibly military aid. The six member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) officially recognize the group as did France, the U.K., the E.U., and United States. Russia, China and Iran, however did not, as they back the Assad regime. From this moment on, the timeline of event goes thusly:

July 2011 - Massive crackdown in Hama. Thousands protest in the streets. Hundreds are killed by the Assad regime.
August 2011 - West calls on Assad to step down. Obama calls for Assad to step down.

November 2011 - Arab Leagues suspends Syria's membership.

February 2012 - U.S. shuts down embassy in Damascus. Russia and China block U.N. sanctions. Hundereds more killed by Assad regime in mass shelling in Homs.

April 2012 - U.N. brokers cease-fire, sends monitors to Syria.

June 2012 - U.N. suspends mission in Syria due to violence.

July 2012 - The massacre of roughly 200 people in Trestmeh ignites international criticism.

August 2012 -U.N. accuses Syria of war crimes.

December 2012 -Rebels capture military bases.

January 2013 - 65 bodies found in Aleppo, many bound and shot execution style.

February 2013 - Influx of weapons to rebels.

March 2013 - Al-Nusra becomes dominant in rebel areas. Al-Nusra is a Al-Qaeda affiliate.

April 2013 - Syria accused of using chemical weapons, Britian and France tell U.S.

May 2013 - Israel strikes inside Syria targeting facilities that housed missiles. Hezbollah fighters aide Syrian military.

June 2013 - UN says nearly 93,000 killed in the conflict. U.S. accuses government forces of using chemical weapons. Obama says we have to strike. (In the mean time, Iran says it will blow up Israel and target American bases if missiles are fired.) As to Obama's call for a missile strike, Republicans say he can't do that without congressional approval. Obama says ok, I'll wait for you guys to get back from vacation so you can vote on it. Republications say Obama's lack of action is giving Assad time to hide his weapons. They're still on vacation. Kerry says, when asked if there is any alternative to a military strike, sure... when Assad allows all chemical weapons to be accounted for and destroyed by the international community. Russia says OK, we can do that. Republicans say that lucky son of a bitch gets out of another crisis. And here we are.....

My view? As you can see this is a very complicated situation. Do we really want to become involved in a civil war with the result that the U.S. would actually be sending arms to Al Qaeda factions, China, Russia and Iraq would be backing Assad, and the only real support we would get is from France! (Let's bring back freedom-fries!). Why are the 400 people who were killed with chemical weapons more atrocious than the tens of thousands slaughtered by conventional weapons? If we really wanted to help, why aren't we sending aid to the millions in refugee camps in Turkey and Lybia. Right now, about a quarter of Lybia's population is made up of refugees. To use a popular quote, "Can't we all just get along?" At any rate, the military industrial complex is gonna make another shitload of money at the expense of how many lives this time?

Viera Fall Festival & Oktoberfest

The festivities begin on Friday, October 25th at 6pm with carnival rides, great food and great German music. On Saturday, October 26 at 10 am there will be German themed music provided by Heir Dan and Mz Suzan. The Chardon Polka Band will perform their highly entertaining brand of polka music and adaptive sounds on Saturday and Sunday. They hail from Ohio and are known NOT to be your average Polka band. The outdoor three-day fall festival will take place in the heart of Viera, located just east of the Brevard County School Board building and across the street from the Brevard County Government Center. There will be seasonal fun for the entire family. The event will include many arts and crafts vendors who will exhibit and sell their creations including oil paintings, handcrafted leather goods, homemade candles, custom woodwork furniture, and much more. The Church of Viera will provide a Pumpkin Patch with pumpkins for sale during the festival. ## Robbin Thompson A REAL FINE DAY

Recorded at In Your Ear Music and Recording, Richmond VA.

There's an old adage in the music industry: "The hardest thing to get a musician to do is to not play". This record is a masterpiece of restraint. It's often said that the instrumentation, the parts of a song - guitar lines, bass, keys, etc. are meant to serve the song, but in the ego driven, bombastic world of popular music this is a rare equation to find. You'll find it on A Real Fine Day.

This is the kind of music that can restore your faith in the ability of music to act as a transcendent vehicle. This is the kind of music that can take you places. This is the kind of music that can define an era of life. Listen to A Real Fine Day twenty years from now and you'll remember where you were when you first heard it. At the very least, get yourself a copy of the title track and listen to it in the morning. The opening acoustic guitar chords bait you, the initial harmonies hook you and the lyrics reel you in. If you can listen to this whole song and it doesn't show you the world through a brand new set of eyes, the price of reading this article will be cheerfully refunded.

Track two, 'The Word' is a remake of the Lennon and McCartney tune but Thompson's version presents it in an entirely new light. He gives it a slick LA head bopping, car driving kind of beat. It sounds like Steely Dan with a suntan. The lead guitar provided by Velpo Robertson plays like a velvety text book that all nightclub guitarists should study.

'Ain't Love Crazy Like That' sort of nods over Jackson Browne's way without coming within 100 miles of being derivative. It's a great smooth pop tune that could have housewives all over America swooning in their living rooms and swimming in their margaritas. If Thompson can get airplay on this one he'll be bigger than John Mayer.

Other tunes are more heavily produced with a bigger band. 'I'm Gonna Take You Home' veers over into Dan Hicks and his Hot Licks territory while 'All Along the River James' conjures up a classic 1970s Van Morrison sound.

Lyrical all ten tunes speak volumes. There's everything from celebration to heartache to American gothic poetry. The words are clever, never maudlin, and always engaging. Check out the card game/love game comparisons in 'I'm All In'. If Paul Westerberg wrote for The Eagles 'I'm All In' is probably what it would sound like.

Go online and look up Thompson's biography. The only thing cooler than the fact that he played with Bruce Springsteen's original band Steel Mill, shades of which are evident in track nine 'Stand Up', is that he actually went to Melbourne High School, class of 1967.

As a music fan, you owe to yourself to put this record in your collection and if you went to Mel. High you need to get to know your alumni.

Whoever you are, you need to wake up to A Real Fine Day by Robbin Thompson.

Local Lowdown

Welcome to annual “Roctober” edition of the Local Lowdown, I’m your host Rick Dees. Seems like only a year ago we were in this very same situation. So much info to throw at ya as well as to highlight the newbies to the scene. Lots of music news as we head towards the end of another rockin year...

Got to give props to everyone that supported James “Jimbo” Garris at last month’s “Jammin 4 Jimbo” benefit. A good deal of money was raised to offset some of Jimbo’s medical expenses. The generosity of the music scene and relative strangers never ceases to amaze me as we help out one of our own. A tip of the proverbial hat to musician Paul Roub for donating an autographed Red, White & Blue acoustic guitar signed by Bruce Springsteen. Big props as well to Hannah Kauffman. A talented singer/songwriter in her own right as well as a major contributor and organizer of the benefit show. I saw a lot of people that day; some who I haven’t seen in a long time, others I may never see again. The music genres varied but all were there to support Mr. Garris and his road to recovery. I’m am proud to be a part of the scene...

A band that graciously donated their time and talent is WEEP. This band of ladies’ history dates back almost 20 years! Getting their start in the mid west, WEEP now call Cocoa home. Gigging locally as well as making an appearance earlier this year at Orlando’s Hard Rock Rising competition, this is a band to watch. Roctober offers high profile concerts for our local scene so be on the lookout for WEEP... Fresh Squeeze is another local gem set for local domination. Touting to be the ‘best in Brevard’ for Reggae music fused with rock and funk, this Melbourne based band is celebrating their one year anniversary as a band this month. Junior Doctor, hailing from Cocoa Beach have been seen in the local venues as of late. Fresh off of touring in support of last year’s Clumsy Words and Bad Pick Up Lines, it’s a great addition here from a band that has shared the stage with some of the biggest names in today’s popular music. Welcome home, boys!

Some good friends of the Lowdown are representing the 321 as part of national tours. Lydia Can’t Breathe are direct support for national recording artists Otep. This is a huge deal. The tour takes them all over the US, wrapping up in November with a date at the world famous Whiskey in Hollywood. Much success, couldn’t happen to a nicer bunch of lads. The trio known as Big Kettle Drum are also in the road this month. The former Brevard Live cover models will see the Northeast this month on a 30 city tour in support of their EP Nantucket Circle. Stay tuned to this column as well as the Local Lowdown discussion group on Facebook for that next ever elusive BKD local gig. Konglom rocked it last month at the Open Mike’s one year anniversary party. Sweet gig if you can get it. Doesn’t hurt that the lineup of the band includes Florida Discount Music’s owner and operator Mike Della Cioppa. Look past the name dropping and check out a truly unique band...Had a great conversation with Dave “Honey” Miller about song and surf not too long ago. The band, with the great tag line; “an unintentional bastardization of many genres”, has been gigging regularly throughout Brevard, with occasional stops in Volusia County. He speaks highly of a frequent collaborator and emerging artist Anna Lusk. Billed as Always, Anna, this acoustic wunderkid can be seen as Honey Miller’s opening act at upcoming shows...In related HM news; is that Ryan Perez behind the drum kit for Mighty Jungle? Pretty recognizable if you ask me...

Some out of town friends coming back for a visit bearing gifts; Orlando’s N-Ception are no stranger to our venues. They’ll be back mid month beach side bringing the rock. Good friends Nu Era are also looking for your support as they have launched a Kickstarter campaign to record their next release. Both bands have shared the stage with many national acts such as Sevendust and Eye Empire...

The Azars, that would be musical siblings Amanda and Adam, are working the scene. Sister Amanda has played with her brother’s band 23 Treez as well as solo outings. Look for big things to come from this musical family in the future...Looking ahead to next month, The resurrected Toys for Tots Bike Run is on the docket. Held annually in as an In Visible Ink production, SouthSide Junction Band now hold top billing. Look for more details as well as a full band lineup, including a few surprises (BSA, maybe?) in the near future online...

As Roctober rages on, let me just say how honored I am to be a part of your world. Local gatherings have put me in touch with musicians from all genres and age groups. There is a respect out there like none other. Big things come our way, Brevard, so get ready for the ride. Drop me a line and remind me that I’m officially middle aged: steve@brevardlive.com. Be good to each other and support the arts. Shine on you crazy diamonds...

5 QUESTIONS with Steve Hodak Song Writer/Musician

By Steve Keller

For those of you keeping track; local singer/song-writer/performer “Stompbox” Steve Hodak was one of my first feature articles for Brevard Live. His humility is only equaled by his talent. I caught up with the very tall gentleman at this year’s Brevard Live Music Awards....

Did the article I wrote last year make you an instant celebrity?

SH: (laughs) No, but it was nice of you to take the time out to do it. I liked how people could read about how I’m like.

You’re out in the clubs playing music on a regular basis. Is our music scene ready for more original music?

SH: No...(laughs), not in a money making kinda of way. Yes - in a creative real music way...

How do we melt the two?

SH: Wow, I don’t know...It all depends on the people listening. When I play an original song (Hodak plays mainly acoustic covers at various bars/restaurants around the county), if it’s the right place and time, meaning someone is actually listening, it’s usually good. It’s like sharing a part of me, and that’s the best. I play full sets of covers and I’m constantly writing new songs. I try not to mix the two. Playing covers is for money and making people happy; a wonderful job that I’m lucky to have. Writing and playing my own music is not about money or ego. It’s about sharing and that is not something I will compromise.

Did you enjoy this year’s Brevard Live Music Awards?

SH: I had a great time and enjoyed seeing many friends. It was great to see a band like Brevard Busking Coalition take home Entertainer of the Year. They’re not your typical local band which makes them so great. It was a good show and I kept thinking of how lucky I am to be a part of this creative community.

What’s the future hold for the “Stompbox”; any plans for a full band performance in the future?

SH: All in God’s hands but I would guess it is full of passion and honesty. Oh and lots of writing, too (laughs). A full band performance would be great but it always seem to come back to the lack of time for everyone, so no.

A SHOWCASE OF ORIGINAL MUSIC

For the third year the Original Music Series showcases some of the finest original talent this county has to offer. Don't get this wrong! We are not talking about garage bands here! The OMS features the creativity of bands and musicians who write their own music, lyrics and create the sound of a new generation. They are experienced and daring enough to step out of the cover comfort zone and explore new music. You can listen to their music every Sunday from 7 to 11 pm at Lou's Blues. There's no admission charge. Most showcases will introduce two bands per night.

This year we start this showcase with two bands that already released their first CD. The very first original Sunday night belongs to the GoFoot Band who make their debut at Lou's Blues on October 20th, starting at 7pm. Their CD Time promises a lot of dance tunes and they have enough original material for an entire night. Some of the band members have played together in other bands, The Creatles, Little Joe and the Giants, Sons of the Beach. and many others. They have been described as rock, pop, country, R&B, jazz, soul, bluegrass.

Jacie And The Knick-Knacks will perform the following Sunday, October 27th, 7pm, at Lou's Blues. Formed just recently in 2013, they have been rocking the Melbourne music scene ever since with their high energy sound, that is influenced by bands like the Pixies and the Cure. Jacie's sweet melodic vocals bring a nice juxtaposition to their brief power-pop songs. Jacie and the Knick-Knacks have released one full-length album, La Rubia, on August 31st 2013. It is a must-see band.

They are followed by My Second Summer, a great power pop band from Melbourne featuring members formally of A Turnaround Life and Lita Gray.

BRUCE MARION

by Charles Knight

Some folks are talented in one fashion or another and some folks are multi talented. Bruce Marion is a keyboardist, guitarist, author, and more. Born in Orlando during the 50s (that's all you need to know), Bruce started playing piano at the tender age of seven. There was a piano in the house that no one played so he took it upon himself to put it to use. He also tinkered around on guitar. Like so many of us that were around in those days, Bruce saw the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's popular variety show and that was all the inspiration he needed to apply himself to the guitar with a vengeance.

His first band was called 'The Surfers' that even had its own cheesy theme song ala The Monkees. The first line of which goes like this. "We're the Surfers baby, no, no, no, I don't mean maybe". Ahhh, to be young again! There were many bands and projects over the years but school came first. A graduate of Melbourne High, Bruce went on to graduate from the University of Florida with a degree in Broadcasting and then went on to get another degree in Communications from the University of Central Florida. After school he went with his love of music and performed in RAJA, a top forty band that played everywhere. While proficient at both, guitar and keys, he was never at a loss for bands to work with. Some of the more notable acts from back in the day were Stepping Out, Renaissance Band, Topaz, Joe Davis of the Drifters, Rick Trotter's Magic of Elvis, Laserwolf, and The Relics. The world was a different place back then and the gigs were long and plentiful. Bruce also played in another band with a well known musician named Pucci Lowrey called Horizon but there was another band called Horizon on the horizon so it gets a little confusing!

As a keyboard guy Bruce did mostly top forty and Disco, but also worked with the legendary Len Turner and more. Along with Butch and Dottie Smith, Relics was his foray into the Country music scene and they were the house band at the infamous rough and tumble bar "Baron's" in West Melbourne.

In those days there were a few influential powerhouse bands around Central Florida with guys like Dave Fiester, and Steve (Radar) McDonald at the helm. "Dave always had an aura of wisdom and maturity about him, I was surprised that he was only a few months older than me," states Bruce. (Funny at how many of Brevard's local artists refer to Mr. Fiester isn't it?) Small world, smaller town. Relics alumni Butch and Dottie Smith's daughter Kimberly ended up as the vocalist in the first incarnation of the band Bruce is still fronting today, Swampfox. There's an old saying, "I've played every dog and pony show around." Bruce has. From rodeos to dog shows, Bar Mitzvahs, bars, clubs, weddings, and even the causeway. You heard it right. At the Melbourne Music Marathon for Cancer they shut down the causeway, set up a Grand piano, and Bruce played for the runners. Now that's cool! The son of Francis and Isobel along with three sisters, Bruce is a Florida boy, born and bred. With a love of nature and his native state, he often spends his free time enjoying the wilds of Bull Creek and Grant Road. When asked if he hunts, his response is "I kill a lot of time and shoot the breeze." Having been raised in the Florida Everglades, I can relate.

Almost everyone around the Space Coast knows that Bruce is an accomplished musician but he's much more than that. Bruce is also a journalist that has written for the (University of Florida) Alligator, Florida Today (outdoors) and Brevard Live. He's also a published author of the novels COTTONMOUTH, and The Martini Shot, both of which are in the Buddy Cole detective series with two more sequels to follow soon. Bruce is still hard at work with his band Swampfox that plays several gigs a month at a variety of venues. There are two Swampfox CDs available as well as three solo CDs that Bruce has released. All are available on Outback Records. You can also find him on compilation LPs and tons of Youtube videos. With music on the soundtracks to such films as 'WOOL' and the soon to be released feature film 'Dead By Friday', and the popular video game Daikatana, you could say Bruce gets around. He also has a day-job as owner of Marion Music since 1985, and he's part owner of SAV Music publishing and Stone Age records. Just recently he signed on as a director of the Brevard Music Aid Inc. Visit him at the store in Stack Plaza, just off Palm Bay Road.

Interview with Chef James Charland Breakfast For The President & Other Food Stories...

by Misti Blu Day

James Charland is a local chef in Brevard County. I met him several years ago at a mutual friend's house. We were having a sushi party and James taught us all how to make our own rolls. It was such a great experience and incredibly delicious. James is currently a chef at Ossorio Bakery & Cafe located in historic Cocoa Village, just down the street from my salon. I am no chef but absolutely love to cook. Whether you enjoy cooking as well or maybe you are like my friend Mal who only owns one pan which is more likely to be used as a weapon than to cook with, I hope that we all can devour a little culinary inspiration from James. Enjoy!

When did you decide to become a chef and how did you achieve that?

JC: When I was 15 I started working in a local hotel. The chefs that I watched were like gods in their profession. I wanted to do that, preparing food with ease and finesse. I started watching them and learning from them and practicing at home for my friends and their families. When I was in high school, taking the Culinary Arts course offered there, I found great inspiration through my chef instructor, Patrice Shuback, she has been a wonderful mentor and friend to me and continues to be, still. Through the years I have built on that passion that I felt and it has led to a very fulfilling career. After high school I went on to the Le Cordon Bleu Culinary Academy to master my craft, learning from the instructors and my peers and continually building on my knowledge of food, even now.

What is your preferred cooking style and influences?

JC: Classical French Cuisine will always hold a special place in my heart. It is where I first began learning food and flavors. I've gone to great lengths to learn as many styles of cooking as I can and I love fusing styles and experimenting with cooking techniques from around the world. I remember when I first began to think in flavors and imagine the taste, smell and mouthfeel, (that's an actual culinary term), of food. I find influences in art, literature, friends and just the mention of something that might bring nostalgia from a family meal or an evening with friends and loved ones. Food is a way of life, no matter which side of the counter you are on.

What is a classic mistake that most people make in the kitchen?

JC: Preparation. A proper mise en place can make your entire cooking experience an enjoyable one. Without it, you will be stressed, your timing will be off, you'll make simple mistakes, maybe even cut or burn yourself and things will end up forgotten, overcooked and you will always leave discouraged and with a bad taste in your mouth. (Punny?)

What is the best dish that you have ever made?

JC: A few years back my mentor, Patrice and I decided to have a friendly cook-off. We decided on one of our mutually favorite classical French dishes, coq au vin (rooster with wine), a dish of braised chicken in Burgundy wine with mushrooms, lardons (from fatback), onions and other vegetables, herbs and flavorings. This was the first time I had ever really cooked for her and I was definitely out to impress. I put my heart and soul into this dish, utilizing everything that she had taught me throughout the years and that which I had learned in school and in my culinary career. Both dishes were exquisite and, by the panel of judges, I was victorious. Patrice happily agreed with the verdict. It was a very proud moment for me, being able to show my teacher, mentor and friend what I had learned over the years and I know it made her proud to see me shine.

Can you describe the most rewarding moment that you have encountered as a chef?

JC: A little over a year ago I was opening the bakery and cafe where I work when the manager came into the kitchen to inform me that I was cooking for the President that morning. "The President of what?", I replied. "Um, the United States of America." was her reply. That was a very exhilarating experience for me, getting to cook breakfast for, speak and shake hands with President Obama. I love talking with our customers about it and seeing the excitement in their faces when I recount that morning with all of the press, the amazingly organized chaos and being surrounded by secret service agents while doing what I love to do. No matter your political views, you have to respect the office. How awesome is that!

What is your favorite dish to make?

JC: I don't know if I have a favorite dish. Everything that I make outside of the restaurant is usually me just playing with food, flavors and color. I do love cooking for my friends and loved ones. A big meal for friends at a get-together or an intimate dinner for two to snuggle up on the couch in front of a movie with my beautiful girlfriend. Those are my favorite things. That is why I cook, to bring happiness to the people I love.

The best meal you have ever had and where:

JC: This one stumped me. I have eaten so many great meals in homes and restaurants that I really can't nail it down to just one.

Any tips to offer the readers?

JC: Be adventurous with your food! Don't be afraid to try a new herb blend or a spice you haven't experienced. Season your food! Check out a new cooking method or a fun technique you read in that dusty cookbook on your shelf that your grandmother gave you. Leave your comfort zone, challenge yourself and your taste buds. There are so many wonderful flavors in the world just waiting for you to say hello. Experiment, make mistakes, have fun! If something goes wrong, order Chinese take-out and try again tomorrow.

MIFF-ED

By Charles Knight

Lissa and I were afforded the honor of covering the Melbourne Independent Filmmakers Festival (MIFF) last month, and what an incredible event it was! Featuring dozens of short films along with some stand out full length features, and documentaries, this year's festival had a bit of everything. With films that bring you to tears either through the harsh reality of life they portray or through hilarious comedy, the fare ran the gamut and had us riveted nearly every moment we watched. There were films done by folks right here on the Space Coast as well as Orlando and even a couple from overseas that have ties to our area. Aimed at raising awareness for the local and state film industry, MIFF is a high profile event that brings out the best in everyone involved. There were several Q&A sessions where we learned a lot about the making of independent films and more from directors, producers, and actors. The red carpet was teeming with the well dressed and the fun and frivolous as well! Taking place at the beautiful Oaks Ten Theater the entire affair was a scene to be relished. A few of the stand outs were the delightfully cheesy 'Rockabilly Zombie Weekend' where mosquitoes infected with the West Nile virus turned townsfolk into flesh eating zombies that invade a Rockabilly wedding - Awesome! And there was the documentary on writer/director John Milius. Mr. Milius, the screenwriter of many a blockbuster films such as 'Apocalypse Now', is a controversial character by Hollywood's standards, the film gives us insight as to his talents and tribulations. There were comedy skits featuring Dana Snyder of Aqua Teen Hunger Force and Lear Bunda of Adult Swim, and Matt Mariska of Robot Chicken as well as a hilarious cocktail making tutorial by Pat and Billy! We were treated to a classic film shot here on Brevard's beaches back in 1969 featuring a young Randy Molnar (check out his dancing skills!) called 'Blame it on Florida!' that captures some long lost landmarks and scenery of our fair Space Coast.

The 'Real Foods, Real Kitchens' made for television series features the marvelous culinary talents of one of the best chefs in Brevard, George Carten, all in attendance were treated to a sampling of the dish he prepared on the show immediately afterward and it was fantastic! The wrap party on Saturday night was a thing to behold with the music of Robin and Eddy and too many beautiful people to mention. There were raffles that included a variety of items donated by various donors around the county. The proceeds went to the Charity Hunger Project which helps families in need learn to shop and cook smart with the hope that no one goes hungry.

Once again, author Terry Cronin, his crew, and everyone involved has put together a gala of note. We highly recommend that anyone with a love of film and the cinema arts make plans to attend next years MIFF!

On the Red Carpet: Mellissa Gruver, Steven Shea, Amber Sym, Randy Molnar, Andrew Bjorkland, Fiend Fatale Cast and Crew.

MIFF-organizer Terry Cronin and MIFF-hostess Robin Krasny

Bonnie King, Commissioner for Space Coast Film, hands Nicole Machon a Recognition Award.

Knights After Night

They say that there's no rest for the wicked. I guess that makes us pretty darned wicked because the word 'rest' has nearly become a curse word in our camp. The past month was definitely a wild ride with many ups and downs. Let's get the downs over with first. In September we lost two very special men. David (Papa) Sigafos, and Anthony (Tony) Fransisco. We will all mourn their loss, yet celebrate their lives in the way we're certain they would want us to. By making and enjoying live music as often as possible! Our travels last month have taken us to many destinations and events of note. Sam Jam 6 for one. We were honored to emcee this fantastic annual event in the memory of musician Sam Gorman that raises money for The Brevard Music Aid. Kenny Michaels once again made it a great day for all of the bands and fans alike!

Named for a young man that was cut down in the prime of life, The Michael-Gene Kids Basketball Foundation is an organization dedicated to the cause of the donation of organs to those in need. We were able to attend the Second Annual Black Tie Affair for this organization. Michael loved basketball and it is this charity's goal to raise funds in order to supply basketballs among other items such as toys and clothing to underprivileged kids. The live entertainment was supplied by Rock Candy, Frankie Lutz, and some terrific sax soloing by Steve Mazzi. The donation of Michael's organs saved three lives. The event is a glamorous one that brings to the forefront a sad yet necessary need for organ donors. You can find out more about the Michael-Gene Kids Basketball Foundation via their Facebook page.

On a lighter note, there was another big show contributing to The Brevard Music Aid. John Wilson of the band Funpipe organized it at Siggy's all American Bar. The All Star Jam featuring three great bands, Funpipe, Rock Candy, and Bullet Theory, it was definitely the place to be. A packed house and rockin' bands! John mentioned to us that he wants to make it an annual event that may possibly be a two day affair. We hope so because we had a fantastic time! Keep up the great work John!

Then there was Jamming for Jimbo. This is a happy story despite its beginning. James (Jimbo) Garris suffered a catastrophic heart attack and this event was organized by his band mate and friend Clemens Nijhof to help pay some of the medical expenses. There were so many talented bands and musicians in attendance that it would be impossible to name them all in a column this small. We do, however, want to mention WEEP, the all female band that has begun to make some waves around Brevard. We were treated by a set from them at our Rockstar Jam at Lou's Blues as well!

We love Jimbo! Many of his friends showed up for his fundraiser.

The Biggest Karaoke contest in Brevard ended on the 10th of the month at Xcess Sports Club and we're proud to announce the three winners in this column. Piper Slattery finished in 1st place taking home the $1000 Grand prize, Sally Kirkendoll finished 2nd, and the third place winner was Pamela Hamm. All the contestants were great and all winners in our book.

Then, of course, there was The 10th Annual Brevard Live Music Awards. A.K.A. The BMAs. Ana Kirby, John Leach, Joe Calautti, Mark Brasel and the gang put on one hell of a show with the best dressed positive thinking folks around! We were fortunate to get the job of hosting the after party at Lou's Blues and a fabulous time was had by all in both venues!

And then...Last but not least...80s In the Park. Covering this massive event for BL is an experience that we'll always be thankful for. We were even crowned "King and Queen of the 80s Prom!" What a blast. We will go into that to a greater degree in next month's issue.

Save the date! Sunday, October 13th, is the day we are getting married on the beach behind Lou's Blues with a massive jam session and party to follow inside. The ceremony is at 4 pm so get there a little early. All are invited; bring your guitars, basses, and voices!
