11th Annual Brevard Live Music Awards

Monday, September 8th, 2014, 6-9pm, Gleason Auditorium

Vote ONLINE

for you FAVORITE Bands & Musicians until August 10th, 2014

Here are the instructions to cast your vote:

- Go to www.BrevardLive.com, click on "Click Here to vote for your favorite Bands/Musicians" and it will take you straight to our ballot where the nominees are listed in 9 different categories.
- You can cast one vote in each category. At the bottom of the page click the button "Click Here to Vote Now!"
- Halt, you're not done yet! Our system will send a confirmation email which you have to click. And now you're done.
- Be aware you can only vote one time.

The result of this annual popularity contest will be announced at the Brevard Live Music Awards. It's for fun, it's for game, it's for charity, and it's a great way for bands and musicians to interact with their fans and followers.

To all the Naysayers: By now we've heard it all, the suggestion of favoritism, politics, and here's the worst - voter fraud! The conspiracy theories are endless, very interesting, and not true. True is that we have a lot of great musicians in Brevard County with many, many music fans. Every year it has been an honor to shine the light on them during the slower summer months and to award the ones who have a great following and motivated their fans. Promotion is a big part of the entertainment business, and the annual Brevard Live Music Awards are all about that.

Kudos to our producers! Ana Kirby (show), John Leach (Master of Ceremony) and his assistant Lisa Wagner, Joe Calautti (music), and Mark Brasel (sound) have worked together to make this show come together. This creative group graces our August cover. Every year it is a unique and rewarding experience of creativity and camaraderie. - And don't forget, the event is held at a new location - the Gleason Center on the campus at Florida Tech.

GUESS & WIN!

Those were the summer night parties in the 90s! YWho is the musician who got distracted from his guitar? Email your answer to mail@brevardlive.com. The first correct submission will win a $25 gift certificate to a local restaurant.

Last month's winner was Jason Anz of Palm Bay. The correct answer was Tom Bayes, drummer of Handful Of Aces.

By Ana Kirby
BMA Show Director

The nominations are in and the official ballots are posted. And as the votes are pouring in, production of the 11th Annual Brevard Live Music Awards is in full swing. Our technical team, under the direction of sound guru Mark Brasel, is primed and ready to go. The BMA All-star Band, with musical director Joe Calautti at the helm, is diligently working on tunes they will perform. Our host, John Leach and his lovely side-kick, Lisa Wagner of Rock Candy are eagerly waiting for SHOW-TIME! The presenters have all been confirmed. Did we mention that The Gleason is also undergoing a complete remodel? That's right - a brand new facility for a spectacular evening celebrating Brevard's favorite bands and musicians. And this is who you will see on stage of the glamorous 11th annual Brevard Live Music Awards on Monday, September 8th, from 6 to 9 pm:

For the third time John Leach returns to the stage to lead the audience through a high-energy, funny and witty awards ceremony along with live performances by some of the finest musicians on the Space Coast. A musician himself, once the band leader of the outrageous rock band Glitterhick, knows the entertainment business like no other. He performs as guitarist, is a great vocalist himself, writes his own music, plays a lot of covers, works as DJ for corporate parties and weddings. He's worked for Brevard Live Magazine since the 90s, and is a well-respected music writer and CD reviewer. John Leach rocks this world and the 11th Brevard Live Music Awards in September.

Don't let all that Rock Candy cuteness fool you. This Texas girl has some real stage cred. She began singing at the ripe old age of 12 on the Opry Circuit in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. In the late 90's, The Nashville Network saw a video of Lisa singing and asked her to participate in a national singing competition hosted by Charlie Daniels. She not only won the contest, but also received developmental deal. With that, she moved to Nashville to pursue her dream and shared the stage with many country superstars such as George Jones, Willie Nelson and Martina McBride. She went on to performed in off-Broadway productions of "Grease" and "The Rocky Horror Picture Show". She is currently the lead vocalist for Rock Candy.

Paul Bender

2-time BMA “Favorite Vocalist” (2012 & 2013) Paul Bender, lead vocalist for Funpipe, has been rocking most of his life. The Cocoa Beach semi-native started singing in Jr. High School and has never stopped. But Paul Bender was not always a lead vocalist. While playing guitar in his first band, Hard Knox, he only sang backing harmonies. Soon, his band realized that his was too powerful of a voice to be in the background. So Paul was brought to the front and has stayed there ever since. As a child of the 70’s, he was heavily influenced by the music of The Beatles and Led Zepplin. When the 80’s came around with bands like Judas Priest, Iron Maiden and Queensryche, Paul found a passion for hard rock with strong, high and melodic vocals. He began to hone his voice in that direction and took his talent to the front of cover bands like Stiletto and Funpipe

Paul Bender will be the first male vocalist to sing the National Anthem at the annual Brevard Live Music Awards.

Steve Cowden

Steve Cowden left his Brevard County home to serve our country in the Army in 1989. While he was stationed in Ft. Polk, LA, he heard the “new” sound of country music, and was hooked. Inspired by artists like Garth Brooks and Clint Black, he went to a pawn shop in Beaumont, Texas, bought an acoustic guitar and learned every country song he knew.

After returning to Brevard County in 1995, Steve joined up with drummer Roger Holloway’s country and southern rock band, Southern Thunder, as the band’s lead vocalist. Steve continued to play with Roger and various other players through the years. Eventually, the band changed their name to The Last Chance Band.

While covering a wide variety of genres, Steve will always stay close to his country roots. You can find him performing his solo act, his duo with either Roger Holloway or bass player Bart Carter or The Last Chance Band at locations throughout the Space Coast.

The Divas

The concept is simple, but clever. Take four exquisite voices and back them up with the finest musicianship around. That’s it. The Divas took Brevard County by storm in January of this year. They play once a month at Lou’s Blues, covering songs from the 70’s through today hits from artists like Stevie Nicks, The Bangles, Gretchen Wilson and even the great Whitney Houston. The vocalists consist of Pam Jacobs, Shelly McLoney, Michele Wood and Leslie Mitchell, who also plays the keyboards. They bring unique and intricate harmonies to every song they perform. The musicians backing these ladies are none other than Joe Calautti on guitar, Fred Cartechine on guitar and synth, bassist Mike Davino and Mike Logullo on Drums. All of these artists are well known names in our local musical scene, playing and singing with bands like Chain Reaction, Souled Out and Bittersweet, just to name a few. Combining all of that talent on one stage equals the dynamic force of nature we’ve all come to know as The Divas.

band; mixing urban rhythms and island beats with conscious lyrics and eclectic melodies infused with dancehall vibes aimed at creating positive energy through music.” Reading that is like receiving a heart-felt “Aloha” from a good friend. And it’s no wonder. These guys are taking their brand of reggae and island music from the barrier islands of Florida to the north shore of Oahu, Hawaii (with the occasional stop in Colombia).

The band is made up of an impressive list of 40+ musicians who play a plethora of instruments. But at the core of LOP is a real “who’s who” of talent; Singer and songwriter Jason Noon (who also plays the uke and guitars), Ras Trent Spears on saxophone, Alex Petrowsky on drums, Denzil “DJ” Simpson on bass and on guitar and trumpet is none other than Chuck Van Riper.

This will be an extremely busy summer for The Lights Out Project. They are currently in Hawaii, filming the music video to their single “Lovers Rock”. The band will be releasing 3 live recorded concerts and their first 4 song studio EP, all the while, taking good vibes and energy to live shows at various venues along the Space and Treasure Coasts.

GT Express

GT Express Motown and Blues Band started about 15 years ago under the guidance of John Wicker, Millard Hall and Gene Snow. Some major acts the band has shared the stage with are Blues legend Joey Gilmore, former members of the Drifters, including Joe Davis, Sheba “The Mississippi Queen” and the late, great Eddie Scott.

Today’s GT Express has evolved into a modern day dance band. Band members are Gregory (French Fry) Gaines on saxophone, Rick Snell Sr. on bass guitar, John Wicker, who is also the band’s manager, on keyboards, Joan Martins on drums, Nathaniel “Nat” Henry on lead vocals and guitarist and music director, Vince Love.

This band has their sights on the next big thing. Future plans include showcasing original songs written by Vince Love and other members of the band during live performances. Production for an all original CD is currently in the works.

This is definitely a “must see” show. So, go to your calendar now, and write “BMAs” on Monday, September 8, 2014. Tickets are only $10 and go on sale on August 1st at selected locations throughout Brevard County. This event, produced by Brevard Live Magazine with the help of the BMA sponsors, is a charity event of which 100% of the proceeds benefit the Brevard Music Aid, Inc., a non-profit organization that assists members of our local music scene in times of need.

Maxwell C. King Center for the Performing Arts

Rolling Out Their Season Of Stars

Rock, Pop, Jazz, Blues, Soul, the Famous and the Legendary - the King Center offers a season of top-notch entertainment with international super stars like Ringo Starr, Todd Rundgren, and Earth Wind & Fire. Proof that Brevard County has come a long way since 1988 when the King Center opened its doors to a new cultural era on the Space Coast. In simpler words, we used to drive to Orlando to catch a great show. But over the past 26 years executive director Steve Janicki has created an amazing artistic landscape for our county.

This month the line up starts with a Rock'n'Blues Festival on Wednesday, August 13th, at 8 pm, featuring the Edgar Winter Band along with Vanilla Fudge and Peter Rivera, formerly of Rare Earth, and Savoy Brown's Kim Simmonds. The show will be a Tribute to Johnny Winter who was originally part of the tour but passed away last month.

On Saturday, August 16th, 8 pm the Summer Concert Series continues with another Classic Album Live - Elton John: Greatest Hits. Classic Albums Live has become the ultimate destination for music lovers wanting to hear the greatest albums performed live without all the gimmickry and cheesy impersonations. Priced reasonably between $25 to $30 these concerts have become a hometown favorite. Two more CAL to follow are Prince: Purple Rain (September 13th), and The Beatles: White Album (October 11th).

Here are a few highlights. For the entire program schedule and tickets go to www.kingcenter.com.

Tuesday, September 23, 7:30pm Experience Hendrix

To team up several well-known artists for a touring show has become the secret to sold-out houses. Experience Hendrix is one of those gems. Inspired by Jimi Hendrix's unparalleled creative and musical influence, Experience Hendrix, LLC - the company formed by the late guitarist's father, James "Al" Hendrix to oversee his legendary son's legacy - has continued that innovative spirit with its ongoing series of all-star tribute concerts held in honor of the late great musician. The featured artists for the Melbourne tour include some of the best known and highly regarded names in contemporary rock and blues including Billy Cox, Buddy Guy, Kenny Wayne Shepherd, Eric Johnson, Rich Robinson, Doyle Bramhall II, Chris Layton, Eric Gales with other special guests to be announced.

Saturday, October 18, 7:30 pm Earth, Wind & Fire

One of the most important, innovative, and commercially invincible contemporary R&B/pop/funk forces of the 20th century and beyond, Earth, Wind & Fire has been one of the world's most reliably transcendent party bands for more than four decades. They have recorded eight Number One R&B singles and eight Double Platinum Top 10 Pop Albums.

Wednesday, October 22, 8pm

Legendary member of the Beatles, Ringo Starr is returning to the King Center stage with his All Starr Band featuring guitarist Steve Lukather, Utopia's Todd Rundgren, original Santana singer Gregg Rolie, Mr. Mister's Richard Page, multi-instrumentalist Mark Rivera, drummer Gregg Bissonette who performed with Toto and Don Henley and saxophonist Warren Ham. Ringo has been one of the world's brightest musical luminaries.

Sunday, November 2, 7pm Susan Boyle

Susan Boyle is a Scottish singer who came to international attention when she appeared as a contestant on the TV program Britain's Got Talent on April 11th, 2009, singing "I Dreamed a Dream" from Les Misérables. Since then she has received 2 Grammy nominations, over 22 million albums sold, number 1 albums in over 40 countries, and more platinum album certifications than can be counted. Susan Boyle is embarking on her first US tour.

Saturday, November 8, 8pm Mary Chapin Carpenter

Five-time Grammy Award-winning singer-songwriter and 2012 Nashville Songwriters Hall of Fame inductee Mary Chapin Carpenter will embark on a series of intimate, acoustic performances this fall. The tour markets Carpenter's return to singing both timeless hits and deep cuts from her expansive and beloved 13-album catalog after performing with orchestras in early 2014. Carpenter will be joined on stage by longtime friends Jon Carroll (piano) and John Doyle (guitars, bouzouki).

Brevard Comedy

by Steve Keller

A guy walks into a bar in Brevard County. Full disclosure: said guy is me, said bar also doubles as a music store. It's a Wednesday night at Open Mike's aka the "other half" of Florida Discount Music. As it's pointed out to me, more tables and chairs were installed tonight impeding into the displays of musical instruments of the store to accomadate the ever growing crowd. All of this on a Wednesday night. To hear jokes.

It's dubbed WTF Wednesday, an open mic comedy night where Brevard comics vie for stage time. Patrons from all walks of life fill every available chair. There's a nervous sense of excitement in the room. What used to be home to a handful of regulars, now requires a signup sheet and "bump" list into the next week. I'm meeting up with David Alan, a twenty something local veteran of the scene. As we sit, organizer Duncan Jay hurries by making sure the show will start on time. "Duncan was the first comic I met in the area," remembers Alan. "I didn't know there was anyone else doing stand up in Brevard until I found him on Facebook. After a few messages back and forth, he just came to my house and picked me up for improv practice with his troupe site unseen." Jay, a daytime physical therapist, seems to be the godfather of Brevard Comedy. Almost every comic I meet with for this article credits him for encouraging and organizing the various shows each week.

Duncan Jay (photo right) grew up in Brevard; graduating high school in Merritt Island and college at BCC before making the move to New York City. He attended The Academy of Dramatic Arts, class of 1999. He found his way back to Brevard and now runs both, the Wednesday night show at Open Mike's as well as Duncan Jay's Ball Buster's Comedy Showcase every Tuesday at Player's Billiards Club in Melbourne. "We got the Tuesday night show based on the success of WTF Wednesdays," Jay tells me. "The owner (of Players) googled Brevard Comedy and a flyer for the show popped up. He had just remodeled the place for arcade gaming but got stuck once the laws changed. They built a stage and couldn't fill the space like they wanted. He saw what we were doing here and wanted in." The Tuesday night shows are more or less a launching pad for local comics to perform. Jay sees it as a way to prepare for WTF's lineup.

There is a wide array of comics here this particular night. Each one gets 5 minutes to perform his or her material. At the end of the night, Jay picks 4-5 performers who he feels did best. The crowd crowns newcomer Francesca by applause as the winner tonight. This is only her second time on stage and receives props from Jay himself. "She has really good stage presence. She has tons of potential. Only time will tell if she can maintain the momentum."

David Alan (photo middle), born David Zigmont, has been doing standup for 3 years. He moved back to Florida after a dream job in NYC imploded ("What the guy promised and what it turned out to be was totally different"). He took the experience in stride and moved back to what he calls "his family in funny." He was gracious enough to assist Brevard Live in compiling a list of local comics to be on the look out for:

About Ann Walker. "I met Ann at improv practice, and couldn't help but notice how naturally funny she was, on top of being one of the kindest and most caring people. She has her own unique style that seems to translate well to any audience."

About Jacoby Bruton. "He is so calm and collected on stage; no matter what size the crowd, he finds a way to say whatever is on his mind and make people laugh at almost every word. It's no surprise that's he's finding success and I couldn't be happier for him."

About Christian Moore. "Personally, I think Christian might be the best joke writer in our area. His jokes have layers and subtlety that not everyone might notice right away, but they have a way of creeping up on you. Once you realize what he said they will make you double over in laughter and want to tell the joke to the next person you see."

About Jim Neil, "The Inventor". "Jim was a great supporter of our Wednesday night shows and our scene in general long before he chose to give comedy a try. A retired engineer, his parodies transcend age and crowd types, and his style makes every naughty joke unexpected and uncontrollably funny."

About Jason Florez: "Before I ever met Jason some of the other comics told me he reminded them of me, so naturally we hit it off immediately. He has he grown exponentially as a comic in both his stage presence and material. We have been doing a musical comedy duo together called The Blood Sausages and he's so much fun to work with."

About Sheera Ann (photo bottom): "Sheera is great. I've been a fan of her style since the first time I saw her perform. Dry, candid, and usually saying something relatable yet unexpected for such a pretty lady."

Sitting down with Mike Della Cioppa, owner of Open Mike's, informs me that it was actually Sheera that helped launch the comedy night. "My wife Lisa was putting together an art show fundraiser, one of the first events we held a few years ago. She wanted a female comic and was introduced to her." Living in Orlando at the time, Sheera Ann Fulsom had been dating Bradley Burton (lead singer of local band The Heart Ring). Fulton brought in Duncan Jay for the event and the rest, as they say, is history.

In addition to the weekly shows mentioned, Brevard has numerous comic outlets across the county. In April, the Orlando Improv even hosted a "Space Coast Blast Off" featuring Alan, Sheera, Neil, and Christopher Neil Walker. Walker, lead guitarist of Jacie & The Knick Knacks, is branching out to another aspect of the stage. Although not performing at Open Mike's that night, could be heard laughing at a table with girlfriend/bandmate Jacie Madison.

In fact music may be the glue that holds the Brevard Entertainment scene together. Sheera recently married beau Burton (now working on a solo CD and fronting Bay City Lights). "We sit in our Florida room bouncing ideas off each other", Burton tells me proudly. "I'll show her a new song that I'm working on and she'll try out some jokes." Sheera herself sums up her craft. "Making someone laugh is the best feeling in the world for me, because it can be very challenging, she she stated. "People have come up to me after a show and have said 'thank you, I really needed that laugh' and to me that's what it's all about. I also just really like to offend people, so either way, making people forget about their problems, even if it's just for a few minutes is what I call a good time."

David Alan, himself in a musical/comedy duo The Blood Sausages, credits his mentor for the growth of Brevard Comedy. "Duncan Jay has helped me in more ways than I could possibly list here," he marvels. "He's the glue that holds our scene together and I think it's safe to say that most of us wouldn't be doing what we're doing now if it wasn't for him. As a touring headliner with over 11 years in the business, his advice and knowledge has been incredibly helpful to us all, plus he's hilarious."

Duncan Jay is testing the waters for Brevard's newest comedic endeavor - Brevardcomedy.com, a family owned venture created by comedian Shannon Hall and his daughter Kailyn. Bringing mostly national comedians, Jay and Angelo Cianfrocco will headline a show in Viera. Alan sees it as another big opportunity. "They're building their audiences well and have been selling out the last four or five shows. It's good because they are introducing new people in the area to comedy, and quality comedy, which in turn helps us grow our open mic and showcase crowd."

Earl's Hideaway, Sebastian
15th Anniversary
With 2 Great Shows

Labor Day Weekend is when Earl's Hideaway celebrates its 15th anniversary with live music featuring two great bands. On Sunday Stacy Mitchhart takes the stage. He incorporates all sorts of styles into his music, Country, Soul, Rhythm and Blues, and early Rock and Roll, to build his own unique sound. But, at its core, it's the Blues. His awards and accolades include his 2012 induction into the Canadian Blues Hall of Fame, a Billboard debut at #6 for his Live from BB Kings CD, a first round Grammy Nomination in 2007 for his album, Gotta Get The Feelin' Back Again, the prestigious "Albert King Award" from The Blues Foundation, "Blues Entertainer of the Year," etc.

On Labor Day Monday, the Jeffrey James Gang will play its southern rock and blues. They are a dynamic group of musicians based in South Florida.

All Labor Day Weekend,

NKF Rich Salick
PRO-AM Surf Festival

The 29th annual NKF Rich Salick Pro-Am Surf Festival is the largest surfing charity competition in the world, featuring professional and amateur surfing competitions, stand up paddleboard and tandem competitions, skateboard, karate, entertainment, and family fun. This event is held each Labor Day Weekend at the Cocoa Beach Pier.

To understand the history of the festival is to understand the history of co-founder and former pro surfer Rich Salick. He was a member of the original Dewey Weber Surf Team in the 60s, the US Surfing Team in 72. But as Salick's career was taking off, his kidney began failing him. Salick was given a chance when his twin brother Phil gave him one of his kidneys in 1974. Despite doctor's order, Rich was determined to surf again and invented an "ensolite padding" that allowed him to ride the waves and even participate in competitions. But his health troubles weren't over. During his life he received three kidney-transplants (all from his brothers) and his gratitude along with his love for surfing inspired him to create this incredible event. Rich passed away 2012 in the middle of the event planing. Once again, his brother Phil stepped by taking over the event now known as the NKF Rich Salick Pro-Am Surf Fest.

The Column

By Chuck Van Riper

People Are Corporations, Too

It all started with the “Citizens United” case. You know, the one that says that corporations are people, too, therefore, they have the right to free speech, mainly in the form of huge campaign donations. Nevertheless, they are people. They should therefore be subject to the same laws as people, and the same consequences when breaking those laws. They should also be subject to the same taxation (but we know how that goes!). Now comes another Supreme Court ruling in the “Hobby Lobby” case that says they also have the right to religious freedom. You see, Hobby Lobby is run by a Christian based family who think some forms of contraception are actually abortion, so they ruled that it was OK for them to NOT pay for those items under the Affordable Care Act. By the way, included in this law suit is the Mennonite cabinet making company, Conestoga Wood. They say that they won’t pay for something that takes a life. (By the way, in case you don’t know, just think of Mennonites as Amish-Lite).

Man, I don’t even know where to start here! Firstly, who is paying off these judges? Obviously someone with deep pockets. These rulings are incredibly unconstitutional in that the Supreme court has no right changing or making laws, they are merely to judge the constitutionality of them. At first, they deemed the ACA totally within the limits of the Constitution, now this little piece of it isn’t?

Now, maybe I’m wrong here, but I thought contraception was used to stop fertilization, therefore, not inducing life. Once again, where does life start? Does that mean any form of ejaculation without the formation of a life is murder? In that case, billions of potential lives have been lost, and that’s just by me! The morning after pill? Really? Is that akin to abortion? Is a cell a living, breathing human being that deserves all the rights therein? Then why isn’t it paying taxes? Come on!! We have to have just a little common sense here.

Speaking of loss of life, how about GM corporation? After a massive tax payer funded bailout, they got back on their feet and made a bunch of cars with faulty ignition switches and air bags. There have been at least 13 deaths as a result of this. Mind you, GM hasn’t paid any taxes because of a new loophole that says a company can use their previous losses to offset taxes. Now if GM was a person like me, it would be in prison for a long time for the murder of these 13 people and tax evasion. Maybe "Thou shalt not kill...even by accident" isn't in the GM Bible, so instead, they just pay a nominal fine.

But I regress... to me, the Hobby Lobby case has nothing to do with religious freedom. Having religious freedom, constitutionally, means you have the right to practice your religion (or lack thereof) as you see fit. It does not mean that a publicly traded, for-profit corporation has the right to usurp a federally mandated law. Whether you agree with the ACA or not is irrelevant. Whether you are for or against abortion is irrelevant. (As I've said so many times before, if you're against abortion, fine, don't get one, but you do not have the right to impose your views on others.) The point is, does a for profit corporation have the right to pick and choose which sections of a federally mandated law they will obey? Can any corporation just randomly pick which laws it will follow?

In that case, if corporations = people, then the reverse must also be true: people = corporations. I, as a corporation want all the tax breaks, legal loopholes, and religious freedoms afforded by any other corporation. So as ChuckCorp, my bank, Bank'o'Chuck, would like to rip off $42 trillion from the economy of the WHOLE FRIGGIN WORLD! If I have to pay $7 Billion in fines, so be it. Then I can make sub-standard products which I will sell to you at greatly inflated prices, but they may kill you. Again, what's a couple million in fines? I will lobby the shit out of congress to make corporate law as beneficial as possible to me. I will not pay a dime in taxes as a consequence. I will buy up small family businesses and crush them into the dirt. As CEO, however, I will be a fair employer. I'll let you use whatever form of contraception you want if you can afford it. You see, I can only pay you $3.25 an hour. If you don't like it, there are 50,000 Guatemalans who I'm sure would be glad to take the job.

Tropical Daze at Art Gallery of Viera

On Saturday evening, August 9th, from 6 to 9 pm, as the summer heat in Florida makes life a bit steamy and locals become entranced by water, sand and sun, Art Gallery of Viera in the Avenue will host "Tropical Daze". This will be the fifth time the gallery has celebrated the palms, sunsets, ocean and birds. It is hot and it is Florida, and it is all expressed in the hot-hot-hot tropical art by local artists. Art Gallery of Viera is a members gallery and it is managed by five of the artists, J. Susan Cole Stone, Helen Wheatley, Jeanette Drake, Rebecca Gomme and Jerry Hanzl. The gallery will have wine and snacks to help you cool down and wild tropical colors to get you hot again.

Cachaca is not for 7th grade posers

by Jared Campbell

One day after-school, as a 90 lb seventh grader, I drank an entire bottle of Brazilian rum. Pitu Cachaca - straight from Brazil. It was a gift to my mother from my uncle and I drank the entire thing in 3 glasses straight. My mother was at work and it seemed like the right thing to do at the time - my brother and air guitar friends were all there along with the two hot chicks, Joanna and Serena, (nefarious, yet buxom high school girls) who lived behind me. They were very encouraging and I didn't want to let them down. Before being rushed to the hospital by my fresh-from-work-and-now-horrified-mother to have my stomach pumped I remember a few details of that day....

Riding the school bus home in North Las Vegas was generally dangerous and the neighborhood I lived in was three times that, so we walked home from Von Tobel Jr. High. We, being my brother Jason, friends Chris, Marc, Richie, and myself. We formed a "band" where none of us played instruments. Rather, we crafted Gibson Explorers, Ibanez Xs, and other flashy metal guitars out of cardboard and then pretended. We were pretty good at Judas Priest and Iron Maiden songs.

On our way home we were chased by a what appeared to be a street gang. Back in those days, if you had long hair and wore jeans, then you were fair game for getting your teeth knocked out. Just around the corner from the school, upwards of 15 teenage males ran at us as though they were going to kill us. We sprinted down the street, hopped over a chain link fence, scaled two brick walls and then into another friend's yard. His mother called the police. Eventually, I ran a reconnaissance mission where I saw what looked like an entire football team surrounding a police car. When I returned we took our chances and made for my house. After leaving the neighborhood near the school we crossed a parcel of the arid Mojave desert. It was like a scene out of Sons of Anarchy except without any of the cool stuff - no bikes, no tattoos, no old ladies, no guns. We were pathetic.

We made it to my neighborhood on alert. 6 foot tall Jimbo and his cousin David stalked these streets on stolen girls bicycles (U-bars and pink sissy seats included). They were bullies in this area and were content in helping with the process of removing the neighbor from neighborhood. I had actually attended 6th grade with David. We had shared remote control cars at one time. Those days were gone now. He'd just assume knock our teeth out than say hello. We entered their roaming grounds which appeared relatively safe for the moment. My house on Bear Creek road had rocks for a yard. We crunched through them and made our way through the front door and into our living room. It was time to jam.

The house smelled like catshit and piss mostly because we had somewhere around 20 cats. Richie found his now soiled cardboard Kramer guitar and held it up to his nose.

"Dude - the cat pissed on my axe.... It's still wet."

"You didn't put it away. Cat's never pee on mine." Jason held up his cardboard SG discovering dried shit. He immediately snatched my Explorer out of my hands bending the neck as he did. "Looks like you're the singer, faggot!"

I would've felt defeated except out of the window I saw Joanna and Serena, the two finest girls on the planet, approaching our door. Chicks always liked the singer. I ran over to the door and opened it before they could knock. They eyed me up and down, holding back a laugh, then Joanna finally spoke, "Are you going to let us in, faggot?" It drained me. "Sure." I kicked at the ground and missed.

Jason was putting on Judas Priest's Defenders of the Faith album when he saw them walk into the room. They were both stunning but Serena was 400 times hotter than Joanna. I felt my face get hot when she looked at me. "Hey ladies, we were just about to jam. Want to watch?" Jason was a smooth talker.

They nodded just as the guitar riffs started chugging. My lanky frame jumped onto the scene pretending to scream like Rob Halford. The girls laughed as we hit the chorus. "Freewheel burning.... Freewheel burning...." Richie and Chris acted like KK Downing and Glenn Tipton synchronizing their body rocks as I held my devil horned fingers high. "WITH VICTORY, WITH VICTORY, ONNN HIGHHHH!!!!" We were killing it.

During the song's ending crescendo we struck a pose so metal it almost rusted. Marc, our "drummer" ran over and turned the stereo off so he could see how much the girls liked our act. Joanna spoke first, "Hey, do you guys have any liquor?" Serena looked directly at me and said, "Yeah, do you have any?" She blinked her eyes which to me meant she liked me. I immediately ran over to where my Mom had stashed the bottle my uncle had sent to her from Brazil. I sat next to her showing her the bottle. It was clear glass with a black label that had a red prawn on it. It said Pitu and a few other Portuguese words. "I think it's rum." She snuggled near me. I almost melted.

"You should have a drink then - singer." Serena said softly into my ear. My mouth went dry. S-Singer? Me? I should? Maybe that was how it starts with Serena? I should drink first. How should I drink it? From the bottle? A glass? Do I like it? What is rum? She loves me. Then my heart nearly stopped - She scratched her fingers on my back and smiled into my eyes.

My brother took the bottle from my hand and went back into the kitchen. Seconds later he arrived with what looked like an 8 oz. glass of rum. He winked at Serena. I took the glass and chugged forcing it down my throat. Here was a kid who couldn't eat a mushroom unless he was tied up drinking an entire glass of rum. After a good sturdy wretch and the goose-bumps went away I looked into Serena's eyes with new virility. Jason snatched the glass from me.

"Wow. Like, that was a lot." Joanna sounded impressed which no doubt meant that Serena was too. Jason returned with another 8 oz's of Pitu. I downed it again. My head broke into a sweat as my throat burned. I was in love with her. That love grew with each vile swallow.

Jason returned with the third and final glass. Wanting to be the manliest man in the room I snatched it from his hand and started chugging. A string of spit stretched between the glass and my mouth as I pulled it away from me. I was starting to feel disconnected yet very brave. I let out a hollow sounding burp. My knees were starting to feel weak. Jason displayed the now empty bottle. "You drank the whole thing, dipshit."

The alcohol hit me in waves. I started laughing and having a hard time standing. The girls started to look a little worried. "I think we should take him outside." This was a great idea. I wanted to do anything they wanted to do. Serena could've asked me to chew the catshit off of Jason's cardboard SG and I would've done it. Going outside was an even better idea. Jason, Richie, Chris, and Mark remained inside. It was just me and the hot girls. This was the greatest day in history.

By the time I walked around to the back of the house I was stumbling. I sat down leaning against the back wall mildly cooing at Joanna. I felt a rumbling in my stomach so I spread my legs out and scooted out so that only my top shoulders and head were leaning on the wall. My speech was starting to sound like vowel sounds and drool until I forced out the last phrase I remember of those moments.

"I seee Sehreenah and I seeee Joennnnah.....and I wanna KISS em." At that moment vomit coursed out of my nose, down my face, and onto my shirt. It burned my nose, but made me feel a lot better. I stared right into Serena's eyes and helplessly vomited more straight liquor out of my nose. To ease the scene and show her I meant it, I smiled blowing a small bubble. "Ughh. That's disgusting." Joanna winced. Apparently she called out to my brother who burst into tears of laughter upon seeing me.

Then everything went black. I awoke to a hospital room. I was sitting in a wheel chair with my mother and brother near me. I was still drunk. I had reached one step above critical condition and worried both my mother and my brother to their limit. I coughed up bits of charcoal and shame.

That was the last time I ever faked music.

Local Lowdown

Hola amigos and welcome to the Local Lowdown. All kidding aside, this is one of my favorite times of years for the scene. Next month marks this year's Brevard Live Music Awards. Held Monday, September 8th, at The Gleason Center on the campus of Florida Tech University. This is our yearly gathering, our Grammy's! The glitz, the glamour! The "hey, you're a lot shorter in person" comments. But I digress. This year's nominations are very heavy in the original music scene and I couldn't be happier...

I guess what could be considered an upset is the "Entertainer of the Year" category. With the exception of our pals Rock Candy and Monday's Mona Lisa it is a mirror image of the "Favorite Original Band" category. Big props to MML; an amazing up and coming group destined for big things. As for the other nominated acts:

Highway One: Nominated for a second straight year, the duo recently released their new CD.

Lucy Iris: She may only be a household name in certain circles, but she is certainly setting out to make herself known everywhere.

WEEP: The reigning Original Music Series winners continue to add to their impressive resume with multiple nominations.

Lights Out Project: Jason Noon and company represent our scene both here and in the islands with their eclectic sound.

So you ask, who does Steve want to win? The answer is simple. Everyone has already won. The recognition that these talented musicians have received is almost immeasurable. We've had acts tout their winner banners to gigs well beyond the designated year that they won. We have Aunt Bertha who wouldn't know a world wide web from a world wide Fred (Bolden perhaps?) hunting and pecking on our website to vote. I'm admittedly not really into competitions when it comes to music. But this is a showcase of what this area has to offer, and I am over the moon of this year's inclusions. What you need to do is simple: vote, then show up. I am honored to say that I'll be making the transition from observer to participant as one of the category presenters. Hell, buy a ticket just to see me wear a tie for Christ's sake! It's a good time and all for a great cause as we raise money for our own Brevard Music Aid charity.

Ok, I'm off of my soap box. We now rejoin our regularly scheduled program already in progress.

There's another great thing I love about this time of year. I don't know what it is but music always seems to sound better in the summer. Could be the sun, the beach. The out of nowhere torrential downpours. If you're into the latter, then the soundtrack to your nightmares has to be Machines on Blast. I had a chance to catch up with local mastermind Evan Mitchell. "I have lived here from age 6 to 21; moved a few times in between (father was Air Force). In 1999 I moved to Los Angeles then I moved back here to Melbourne in 2013," he tells me. California's loss is our gain. Rounded out by guitarist Sabien Kane and drummer Chris Mashall, MOB reminds me a lot of an updated version of Ministry. Mitchell himself reminds me of another self motivated, techno oriented artist by the name of Steven Williams. On a side note, Mr. Forgotten Citizen will be in Colorado by the time this is published. The scene will miss him tremendously. Anywho, check out Machines on Blast online at ReverbNation and according to Mitchell in live settings here in Brevard and abroad very soon...

I know a lot of people. I'm not bragging, just stating facts. These people I know always bring up local acts that I may or may not be aware of. One of these people I know is Sushii Xhyvette. She had told me about Patrick S. Nichols aka PS. Then she told me he was moving out of state. Then she told me he was staying here. I decided to take matters into my own hands. He is awesome. For fans of contemporary Folk rock. He is here in Brevard. But is leaving. Luckily for us we have technology that let us listen to PS wherever we are or wherever he goes. So go to Soundcloud and check him out. I regret no doing so earlier. Moral of the story: listen to Sushii more often...

Another hear it here first or somewhat close to it is Mikhayla Schroth. Brought to my attention by the wonderful Brendon Paredes for whom I and really everyone around here should be grateful for. His keen ear for talent has been recognized over and over again. Mikhayla has been hard at work recording, with scattered performances in Melbourne in the last few months. Check her out online at Soundcloud as well and be on the lookout for this budding singer/songwriter.

A hardy "Welcome Home" to world traveler Andrew Wiggins. The My Dearest Friend/Paging Mr Herman drummer had spent much of the summer traveling in Europe. When asked why, other than attending a wedding in Holland, his reply of "Why not?" floored me. Why, the hell, not? Sleeping in hostiles, having adventures

5 Questions with Be Brave Foundation co-founder Jeremy Chambers

by Steve Keller

Florida father Jeremy Chambers reaches out to Brevard's Big Kettle Drum and social media to provide financial assistance to families in Central Florida with a child battling cancer.

LL: How did your family come to create the Be Brave Foundation?

JC: Our son Joshua was diagnosed with ALL (Acute Lymphocytic Leukemia) on February 28th of last year. Coming from a fundraising background, I wanted to give back to families in similar situations and offer a way to help.

LL: What is the purpose of Be Brave Foundation?

JC: Be Brave Foundation is about two things; music and fundraising. Big Kettle Drum take care of the music. They're playing house concerts for anyone who will host them. Instead of charging admission, we encourage everyone to donate. Our goal is to raise enough money for one family grant. The fundraising part is ongoing. We're not trying to compete with large charities out there who are doing research for a cure. Our goal is to help out the families who are going through it right now and need help to offset costs.

LL: What financial assistance does the charity offer?

JC: We offer two types of grants; $500 family grants and $1000 gadget grants. One of the main objectives of this foundation is to help the family. The money we give to let the child be a child. Maybe the family can't afford to pay the light bill and take the family to an amusement park? We don't dictate what the money is used for, we just want to offer the family some relief. As our website (www.bebravefoundations.org) states; "Gadget Grants is our program that gifts these children with new or gently used iPads, tablets, hand held gaming systems, and laptops to help take their minds off the scary stuff so they can focus all their energy on conquering cancer."

LL: How can someone get involved to donate or volunteer?

JC: For anyone who wants to donate money or gadget items can go to the website to do so. We rely heavily on social media to stay in contact and to educate people who inquire. We're not looking to be a huge entity, but want to connect people who need help.

LL: How is Joshua doing now?

JC: He's doing well. He's in remission and is receiving maintenance chemotherapy. Joshua's quest to conquer cancer has driven us to bring the community together. We want to help other children and families that have found themselves on this heartrending path.

Brevard Scene

in far away places. Shoting a sword wielding maniac in the streets...um, wait, that was Indiana Jones. I has asked Mr. Wiggins to send me a favorite picture of his travels and he decided to submit a picture of New York City upon arriving back from said trip. Not what I was hoping for, but that's ok. You can see Andrew, Brian, and Jims when My Dearest Friend perform out in Brevard to promote their latest full length CD.

Finally, something pretty cool happened just before we went to press. My appreciation for "Stompbox" Steve Hodak is well documented in the pages of this fine publication. To me, he epitomizes a working musician. Puts as much effort and passion into "Brown Eyed Girl" at a restaurant gig as he does recording and releasing his mutiple originals songs on social media. He had just finished

FLORI-DUH

By Charles Knight

Life on the Loop road, in the middle of the Everglades, could be a pretty mundane existence for a teen aged kid with raging hormones, but then again, life is what you make it! I never had trouble meeting girls or keeping girlfriends as a young man but sometimes there's a very small pool of talent to choose from when you live deep in the woods. So when the strange family with the two hot daughters from West Virginia (or someplace else) moved to the Loop - I was ecstatic! It didn't take me long to get on personal terms with the oldest of the two and life was going pretty darned good. I'll call her Daisy because she was barefoot and wore short cutoff jean shorts, long blonde hair and a body to die for. Her younger sister was just as hot but that's another story altogether! They also had an older brother - we call him Jethro because of the similarities to the T.V. character, and I mean both physical and mental!

So my life was great for a while but evidently Jethro was having a tough time since employment in the Glades is very limited and he wasn't having any luck in securing a job at all. So our hapless hero Jethro did what any self respecting backwoods man would do...He drank more beer and spent time with an older married woman that we'll call Nell. Now Nell wasn't a particularly attractive woman, I would guess that she weighed about...oh, two hundred and twenty five pounds, was in her mid to late sixties, with grey hair and few if any original teeth. Nell was married to the same fellow for forty something years and suffice it to say that there probably wasn't much spark left in their love life. The two of them lived in a relatively new mobile home on the Loop. Jethro, on the other hand was living in an old (and small) rented mobile home with Maw, Paw, and the two sisters. This arrangement didn't leave our poor hero with much privacy at all.

Let's do a little math. Take one unattractive and very lonely older woman with some money (not wealthy by any standard), add to that, a strappingly handsome though intellectually challenged young man in his early twenties with no money, no job, in need of cash for beer and smokes, and what you end up with is Jethro giving Nell the attention she desired in return for beer and cigarette money. Makes perfect sense in a backcountry sort of way right? You would think that this would be an ideal situation for the two of them, wouldn't you? Wrong! Jethro wanted some privacy and the only way he was going to get it was by having his own little bachelor pad, someplace he could bring his women to etc. And, as fate would have it, Nell had a greater need as well. If the old man (Nell's husband of forty something years) were out of the way, she could spend a lot more time up-close and personal with Jethro.

And thus...a plan was hatched! The two conspired to kill Nell's husband while he was working as a part time night security officer just outside of Miami. Jethro would shoot the old man while he was making his rounds and no one would ever suspect him because there was no connection whatsoever! In return Nell would purchase a small trailer for Jethro and supply him with both beer and smokes for a whole year! Soon after this plan was hatched Daisy and I were having some fun (of a personal nature). While we were doing our 'thing' she told me of Jethro and Nell's plan (I guess Jethro had a difficult time with secrets). At first, I was somewhat preoccupied and didn't really take it seriously. Didn't even give it another thought. Two days later there was a buzz on the Loop...Did you hear about Bob, Nell's husband? Someone tried to kill him at work last night, shot him from far away with a 410 shotgun. Winged him in the side, and he's in the hospital. He's gonna make it though 'cause everybody knows that a 410 is a bird gun and you would have to pretty much put the barrel right up against someone's head if you really wanted to kill 'em! Wonder why anyone would want to hurt old Bob?

I could barely believe what I was hearing and had decided that I should tell my father. I was on my way back to Gator Hook from Pinecrest when the caravan of State Troopers and unmarked Monroe County cops passed me headed towards...you guessed it...Both Nell's and Jethro's. When I got home I told the whole story to my dad. We then sat on the front porch, he had a beer, and I had a soda. After a while some of the cops came back by heading the other way. In the back of one car was Jethro, in another, Nell. I never did see Daisy or her family again as they moved out the very next day...I have often wondered what ever happened to them.

And no, they were not native Floridians.

CELEBRATING OUR 28TH ANNIVERSARY

4970 Stack Plaza (Palm Bay Rd) • 321-984-2470

For over 28 years the family run restaurants have remained favorite places to indulge in great seafood. Their upstanding reputation for freshness initially started in Palm Bay. After two successful locations the only restaurant remaining is deep in Melbourne Beach on A1A because of family relocation. A bit of a drive but well worth it. Today, daughter Jacqui and other family members make sure the New England style seafood her family loves so much is upheld, but with a bit of a Floridian attitude.

Don't expect fancy chandeliers or crisp white napkins. The covered patio is large and the inside decor is down to earth because the focus is on serving the freshest possible homestyle seafood. Nothing is ever frozen and all the seafood is delivered straight from the Northeast. The sea scallops are my "must-have" menu item. Like the shrimp, they are large, sweet and succulent. The whole belly clams are popular among patrons, and if you prefer you can get them served as crispy strips. Their perfectly seared Ahi Seared Tuna, Nantucket Trio, Maine Steamers or whole Maine Lobsters will please any seafood savvy diner. Seafood can be broiled or fried in a hand-battered recipe that is crispy yet light enough to not overpower the taste of the seafood itself. The servers bring chilled bottles of homemade tartar and cocktail sauce for the ultimate seafood bliss.

The hearty clam chowder, creamy lobster bisque and tomato based mahi chowder are long-time family recipes that make great starters or hearty meals overflowing in a bowl. If seafood is not your style then a chef's cut steak, chicken wrap or juicy grilled burger stacked with condiments will be right for you. Pair it with a frozen cocktail, margarita or bloody mary and you have arrived in paradise.

The bar area has indoor or outdoor seating and flat screen TVs for rooting on your favorite teams. The large projection screen is popular during football season using the NFL Sunday Ticket. Happy hour extends Monday through Friday 11am to 7pm and Thursday all day. You can't go wrong with $2 house cocktails, $1.50 drafts, $2.50 bottles and $3.50 house wine and select bar menu items are half off.

For many years local diners have enjoyed the fresh seafood of the New England Eatery and Pub because of their friendly staff and the distinct buttery sweet New England style food as well as fresh cooked Floridian entrees. They are always happy and hungry to return.

Here's to the 80s

By Charles Knight

The past is a little over a month away. And how fortunate are we that we get to travel back to the eighties every year! Where else in America do you get to time travel for three days? Three magical days where we get to see and hear the bands we rocked to thirty years ago. We get to see the stars and cars, the clothes, the hair and everything else that we seem to love so much.

The eighties was an era of resurgence and excess, we had come out of a recession of epic proportions. In the early part of the decade the cold war was still going strong and the world was nervous. It has been said that Americans spent a lot of money in those days because we were unsure of mankind's future. Nuclear annihilation loomed in the background and we decided that we were going to have a good time before any bombs wiped us out. So what did we do? We wore outrageous clothes and wild hair styles. Spent more money than we had while maxxing out our credit cards. We bought vinyl, cassettes, and eventually CDs of our favorite bands. We bought VHS players and fast cars. We went out to play nearly every night, dancing to the sounds of new wave bands and moshing to hair metal. The whole idea of hydrogen bombs and Armageddon is as bad as it gets, but the result was an almost care free attitude and fun was the word of the decade!

This September 26th through the 28th is the second return to the past at 80s in the Park at the Wickham Park Pavilion. Featuring over twenty bands and solo artists from the eighties over a three day span, the festival also features many vendors with memorabilia of the era along with a full on 80's arcade featuring Donkey Kong, Pac Man and just about every video game that we all played back then. The General Lee car will be there along with The DeLorean Time Machine and lots of other really cool cars! Once again there will be people wearing the styles of the day and contests too.

What were the eighties really about though? Why, the music of course and you will be treated to three days of fantastic bands that will take you back! Friday's line up includes Jack Russell's Great White, Faster Pussycat, Enuff Znuuff, Tuff, Dead Serious, and lots more. Saturday will feature Zebra, L.A. Guns, Missing Persons, Gene Loves Jezebel. Bow Wow Wow, Bang Tango, Killer Dwarves, and Lillian Axe. On Sunday we will be treated to Brian Howe of Bad Company, Stephen Percy of RATT, John Waite, The Pat Travers Band, Burning Starr, Cheap Thrill (featuring members of Cinderella), John Corabi (formerly of Motley Crue) and Kenny McGee of Juliet, Velcro Love, Powertrip along with more!

Looks like a killer weekend with a lot of our rocking friends old and new. Lissa and I will be there as your hosts and emcees so get your tickets now at www.80sinthepark.com

Knights After Night

by Charles & Lissa Knight
(Text & Photos)

The heat is definitely on here in Brevard County, and let us tell you folks it's about to get hotter! Not strictly attributed to Mother Nature but also because of some amazing musical extravaganzas getting ready to take place in the next few weeks. The first one coming up is the Michael-Gene Kids Basketball Foundation's Annual Black Tie Fundraiser taking place August 8th once again at the Crowne Plaza Oceanfront Resort in Indialantic. Of course, we will be in attendance again this year, not just for the fun but because the Futch's are close family friends as well whom we wholeheartedly support. In fact during last year's event we both were so inspired by all the support from our community and seeing actual people there whom Micahel-Gene's organs were donated to, we decided to become organ donors as well. You can find out all about this wonderful foundation at www.michael-gene.org as well as purchase tickets to this event which includes a sit-down dinner, silent auction and live entertainment. This year's band is the Umbrella Thieves and we are all very excited about their involvement. The Umbrella Thieves are one of the Space Coast's new up and coming bands and are made up of husband and wife team Sarah Jean Balazero(lead vocals) and Jazono Balazero (keyboards) as well as Steven Baron (bass/vocals), Matt Nysten (lead guitar/vocals) and Mark Epperley (drums). If you have not been to one of their show's - GO!

Another exciting event taking place this month on the 30th is Teen Tour III and, folks, this one is going to be a blast. Taking place outdoors at Juice'n'Java in Cocoa Beach this outdoor concert will also consist of a benefit for the Cocoa Beach High School musical department. As many of you may know ongoing budget cuts in schools are effecting the music and art departments. This is a sad situation and unfortunately is hurting the children and their learning experience. Can any of you imagine not having the opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument or feed your artistic side in school via art class? We can't, so therefore when Rockstar Entertainment was asked if this cause could be implemented into Teen Tour, the answer was a big fat Y-E-S! Mark your calendars for this date and come join us as we welcome a couple of new acts, Alex Rodriguez and Mackenzie Carey, to the stage as well as past performers of this concert series, Anja, The Civil Ties, Undecided and Monday's Mona Lisa. The fun will begin at 5pm and will be the first night-time Teen Tour.

Look who we bumped into making our rounds - GT Express!

You never know who may pop in and sing with us at Steagles, Jessica Spears rocks.

We want to give a brief mention of some other great events heading your way in September. Monday, September 8th marks the 11th Annual Brevard Live Music Awards, this year being held at the Gleason Auditorium. Be sure to get your tickets for this musical gala and don't miss out seeing who will receive awards for favorite musicians in numerous categories, live performances by a slew of local performing artists and of course who is wearing what, not to mention one heck of a celebratory after party at Lou's Blues. Brevard Live Music Awards is the main fundraiser for Brevard Music Aid, Inc., a 501(c)3 non profit that helps Brevard musicians going through catastrophic situations.

Sam Jam 7 is taking place on September 14th at the Pineda Inn. This is a free all day event that will be filled with raffle items, prizes and plenty of live entertainment including Jack Clutterman, Wicked Garden Gnomes, to name a few as well as headliner act The Big Kettle Drum Band. Proceeds will go to Brevard Music Aid,

A big shout out to Jason Lapari of Metal Zone Radio and his new bride Kandis Lapari! We were very happy to attend their wedding last month and despite the rainy afternoon, they still tied the knot with big smiles and lots of happy (and wet) witnesses on hand for their special day. We thank you both for inviting us. After the reception we made our way to one of Brevard's hot spots to catch a band we had heard a lot of buzz about - The Madd Hatters Band. Made up of former members of Medusa, Rock Foundation and Chain Reaction this band of seasoned musicians put on one heck of a show! Elke Baragno, lead singer did an awesome job of interacting with the audience as well as moving and grooving with great stage presence. Darren Ebert, bass man extraordinaire whom we all know from another entertaining female fronted band Medusa, was as always a joy to watch. All members of this band have a great comradeship and it shows. We had planned on catching just a set but after experiencing one, we had to stay for another! Up until recent, their fan base has mainly been North Brevard and we are thrilled that they are starting to migrate south making many new fans.

Speaking again of Mother Nature, she has been sending a lot of rain our way as of late, however, we are very thankful a few raindrops falling on anyone's head has not stopped many of our followers from joining us at one of our weekly karaoke shows. The show must go on and we sincerely thank each and everyone of our singers for their continued support rain or shine, besides whoever said a little singing in the rain ever hurt anyone!
