THOSE WERE The Glory Days PART IX

by Judy Tatum Lane

Dave, they wanted so badly to build their lives around music, they were willing to try pretty much anything. So we sat and waited, and finally he arrived, as well as I can remember, dressed in a power suit with a styled haircut that said he could do anything he promised, and a very aggressive personality with just the right amount of smooth talk, which is what it took for the club owners, not anything that would or did impress the members of the band, but that wasn't as important as impressing the club owners.

Everyone in the band gathered in the hotel room to see what he had to say. Something this big, every person had to be there to help make the decision of whether or not he was what the band needed or even wanted. So, everyone sat down and he proceeded to sell himself. But it wasn't long before the band wasn't buying anything he had to sell. He first lost everybody real fast when he started talking pink jumpsuits, which they were supposed to wear!! It was great for David Bowie at the time, but I cannot for the life of me imagine anyone in this band wearing a jumpsuit, least of all pink!! They were blue jean and work shirt guys. But least of all could I picture a 6 foot 4 inches Dave, who between his height and build made everyone else look small, bellowing out Johnny Winter and playing his guitar the way he did, being taken seriously standing there in a jumpsuit. I think there was a real good chance that this guy would have been thrown out on his ears, but I think

Fresh Squeezed had found its next stop, and it was Daytona Beach. (I love the emails and letters I have received from those who remember and were fans of the band.) For those of you who were either too young, lived out of the area, for whatever reason may not remember the name Fresh Squeezed, it was a band consisting of Dave Fiester on lead guitar and lead vocals, Bill Hoffman on drums, Jack Sullivan also on drums and vocals, John Lane on bass and Roy Zito on keyboards and harp. Although I have to give credit where credit is due, Bill did sing a Z.Z. Topp song "Gimme Two Steps." And Jack would give Dave a break on vocals with songs such as Howling Wolfs "Built For Comfort." As for John, to this day no one has been able to get the first note out of him, even though many have made it a challenge just to see who would win. My money will always be on John. Some may remember a different lineup of musicians in a later band with the same name, because after the break up of the original version I just mentioned, Dave chose to keep the name "Fresh Squeezed" for the next musicians he would put together as a band.

Fresh Squeezed seemed to be hanging in there as far as gigs, but there were times when it just wasn't enough, both financially and for the moral of the band members, more so the moral. They were trying to make it on their own at a time when so many clubs were basically closed out to anyone who did not have a manager, or belong to the union. This is exactly why we were all sitting around the hotel anxiously waiting for a promoter who promised that he would take Fresh Squeezed wherever and however far they wanted to go. I guess I was always a little leary of anyone who promised so much, but as I mentioned before, Dave was full of optimism at that time, and the rest of the guys, whether they were optimistic or not so sure, like

Dave Fiester and Fresh Squeezed stayed true to themselves in a time when showmanship almost dominated over musicianship.

COMMANDER CODY ROCKS SPACE COAST

Commander Cody and His Lost Planet Airmen is a rock band formed in 1967 in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The band's name was inspired by 1950s film serials featuring the character Commando Cody and by a feature version of an earlier serial, King of the Rocket Men, released under the title "Lost Planet Airmen". The band's founder and leader, George Frayne, took the stage name Commander Cody.

Commander Cody And His Lost Planet Airmen arrived in San Francisco in 1969, just in time to catch the tail end of the summer of love. They were 8 pieces strong, with the Commander himself (a.k.a. George Frayne) on the piano, three guitarists, fiddle/sax, pedal steel guitar, bass and drums - of whom four sang lead.

The repertoire stretched from old time rock and roll; 20 FLIGHT ROCK, red neck country; TRUCK DRIVIN' MAN, boogie-woogie; BEAT ME DADDY 8 TO THE BAR, Cajun; DIGGY LIGGY LO, swing/jazz; SMOKE, SMOKE, SMOKE THAT CIGARETTE, plus their self-penned party anthems; TOO MUCH FUN, I'M DOWN TO SEEDS AND STEMS AGAIN, and LOST IN THE OZONE. Basically, they represented the essence of American roots music.

Eventually, they signed with Paramount Records. The twangy HOT ROD LINCOLN was a runaway hit, reaching the top ten in 1972. A few more tunes breached the top 40 as they hit the concert trail, playing the legendary Fillmore Auditorium, and finding themselves on bills with the Grateful Dead, The Doors, The Jefferson Airplane, Alice Cooper, Led Zeppelin and The Eagles. They also backed up legends Gene Vincent, Link Wray and John Lennon. Later, their 1974 album

"Live From Deep in the Heart of Texas" was named as one of Rolling Stones 100 Greatest of all times!

As always, the old Commander Cody himself is behind the piano, leading the musical mayhem and controlled chaos, and sporting his legendary antics and ability to spark up even the toughest crowds.

Today the Commander Cody Band is closely knit with the legendary George Frayne a.k.a. "The Commander" (leader/keyboards/vocals), Steve Barbuto (drums/vocals), Rick Mullen (bass) and Mark Emerick on lead guitar and vocals. Frequent guest steel guitar appearances by Bobby Black, Tiny Olson, John Wingren and Don E. Curtis of Scotty's Music add to the fun. This new edition of the band harks back to the instrumental virtuosity and spontaneity of the original band, and the response from critics and crowds has been overwhelmingly positive.

For tickets or information call 321-728-4311.

VOTE FOR YOUR FAVORITE BAND & MUSICIAN

The biggest night of the year for Florida's East Coast music scene is happening this summer. The third annual Brevard Live Music Awards (The BMAs) will be taking place on Monday, August 28th at 6 pm at Melbourne's Henegar Performing Arts Center.

The BMAs can best be described as the Brevard County version of The Grammy Awards. Fans, musicians, performers and local industry insiders from all over Brevard County come out to celebrate the local music scene. Bands perform live, awards are handed out in various categories, and a big time is generally had by all.

However, one big difference between some national award shows and our hometown event is that most of the award winners are decided solely based on public voting. Blank ballots can be found in this and next month's issue of Brevard Live. The final results are kept secret until show time. As in previous years there are also a number of "specialty" awards presented. Winners in such categories as The "E.A.R." (Excellence in Audio Recording) Award, Ambassador, and continued page 13

Mover & Shaker are decided by Brevard Live's staff. This year we will presenting a new "specialty" award known as The Dave Fiester Hall of Fame Award. In memory of our good friend and legendary musician who passed away last year, The Dave Fiester Hall of Fame Award will be given out annually to an individual or group who has (in our opinion) gone "above and beyond" for the good of our community. And yes, the first year's winner has already been decided but we ain't sayin' nuthin' 'til show time!

East Coast faves, The Danny Morris Band will be this year's house band for the event and Brevard Live's own Chris Long will be pulling away from his duties on the upcoming Poison world tour to return as the show's host. Also expect some special V.I.P. guest presenters. Our usual half-time "All Star" jam will be replaced this year with a special tribute to the area's top female vocalists. Be looking for live on stage special guest performances by Katty, Medusa's leader Brenda, Debby Boyer and more. Of course there will also be quite a scene in the Henegar lobby during the pre-show and half-time segments with a stocked bar for thirsty partiers and a new special FYI table for bands, solo acts, and other performers to meet, greet, and promote.

FOR THE FIRST TIME: A BMA AFTER PARTY!

And don't forget about the official BMA after-show party at Siggy's in Palm Bay featuring an amazing all night blues jam hosted by The Matt Sams Band. It all adds up to one incredible party night that no local music fan will want to miss. Look for complete ticket info in next month's issue.

June 3rd At Space Coast Harley:

ROCK-N-RUMBLE WITH THE GHOST RIDERS

Southern rock is alive and well as you can see and hear at the "Rock-n-Rumble" on Saturday, June 3rd, at the Space Coast Harley-Davidson in Palm Bay. This promotional party features full fleet demos, the giveaway of a XL883 sportster, food and beer vendors and lots of live entertainment. Headliners are the Ghost Riders, which consist of former members of the Outlaws, Pure Prairie League & Levon Helm Band. Local favorites Pinch and RED will perform as well.

Before building the success of his own "Mira Vista Studios", he toured with the southern rock group The Outlaws throughout the 80's. He's also credited with writing a number of successful songs including "Fallen Hero," for the Disney/Touchstone movie "Can't Buy Me Love", "Keepin' Our Love Alive", a top 40 hit for the Henry Paul Band, "The Outlaw" and "Lady Luck" for The Outlaws. Steve has been back up guitarist for Razy Bailey, Tom Wopat (Luke Duke on Dukes of Hazard), Bobby Bare, Montey Holmes, Jeannie C. Riely ("Harper Valley PTA"), Robert Nix (Atlanta Rythym Section), Artimus Pyle (Lynyrd Skynyrd) and many more.

August 5th At The Melbourne Auditorium:

DAVE MASON

At age 18, the Worcester England native teamed up with Steve Winwood, Jim Capaldi and Chris Wood to form the legendary band Traffic. At 19, Mason penned the song “Feelin’ Alright”. This song has since become a rock and roll anthem, having been recorded by well over 48 artists, the best known version is by Joe Cocker. The group’s profound influence over rock music remains unquestioned.

Mason departed from the group after their second album. In 1969 Dave headed for the USA to pursue a solo career. He struck gold with the album “Alone Together”, which is considered a rock classic. This was followed by five albums for CBS/Sony including “Dave Mason” and “Mariposa De Oro”, four of which received gold albums. “Let It Flow”, which has gone well over platinum, contained the classic “We Just Disagree”, a top-ten single!

In addition to performing to sold-out audiences, Mason has performed on a number of albums, The Rolling Stones’ “Beggars’ Banquet”, George Harrison’s “All Things Must Pass”, Paul McCartney’s “Listen To What The Man Said” and Jimi Hendrix’s “Electric Ladyland”. One song from the “Ladyland” album, “All Along the Watchtower”, featured Dave playing acoustic guitar. This song, written by Bob Dylan, remains a big favorite in Dave’s live show!

In October of 1993, Dave Mason formally joined the legendary group Fleetwood Mac and spent two years touring with them around the world. The band completed an album for Warner Brothers called “Time”, which was released in October 1995, and features Dave’s lead vocals on songs including “Blow By Blow” and “I Wonder Why”.

Dave Mason’s career spans over 37 years and has encompassed producing, performing and song writing, not to mention being one of rock’s great guitar players! Along with his induction as a founding member of the group Traffic into the Rock and Roll Hall Of Fame, he is currently putting the finishing touches to a brand new solo album. In January. Along with his partner Ravi Sawhney, Dave launched a brand new electric guitar company at the 2004 NAMM show, in Anaheim, CA. (www.rksguitars.com)

COOL SUMMER CONCERTS

- SPYRO GYRA

July 15th, 8 pm, King Center

- THE RIPPINGTONS

August 13th, 7 pm, King Center
20th Anniversary Tour

Spyro Gyra, a name in contemporary jazz that has come to signify excellence! Founding group member saxophonist Jay Beckenstein, is joined by keyboardist Tom Schuman, guitarist Julio Fernandez, Scott Ambush on bass, and drummer Ludwig Afonso. Take a sweet mix of vibrant contemporary jazz, fusion and R&B, add in the spirit of improvisation and you have the dynamics of this talented group of musicians. Feel the explosive excitement as the band creates infectious melodies, zesty Latin rhythms and the rich sound that is jazz!

Spyro Gyra emerged around Jay Beckenstein and keyboardist Jeremy Wall, who had met and formed a band during their high school years. Although they headed in different directions during college—Beckenstein to the State University of New York in Buffalo and Wall to Cal Arts—they spent summers together playing outdoor concerts, and Wall moved to Buffalo soon after graduating.

Beckenstein had been working in clubs in Buffalo since his junior year of college, backing various vocalists. Wall teamed up with Beckenstein, and the two started playing instrumental music—mostly covers of R&B songs—together. In Beckenstein's description of the Buffalo club scene of the time: "Not many people know it, but Buffalo was like a mini Chicago back then, with a smoking blues, soul, jazz, even rockabilly scene, of all things."

Over a year, their work evolved into Spyro Gyra. Wall has commented that their sound was a "gutbucket of rhythmic tradition. We did simple music and esoteric stuff. It all came together, this oddball mix, until we found a middle ground, our own groove".

The name "Spyro Gyra" is a misspelling of spirogyra, a kind of algae on which Beckenstein had written a college biology paper years earlier. He recalls: "Before a gig in a Buffalo club that was called Jack Daniels, the owner twisted my arm for a band name. As a joke, I remembered the paper and said, 'Spirogyra'. He misspelled it 'Spyro Gyra,' advertised it that way, and it stuck."

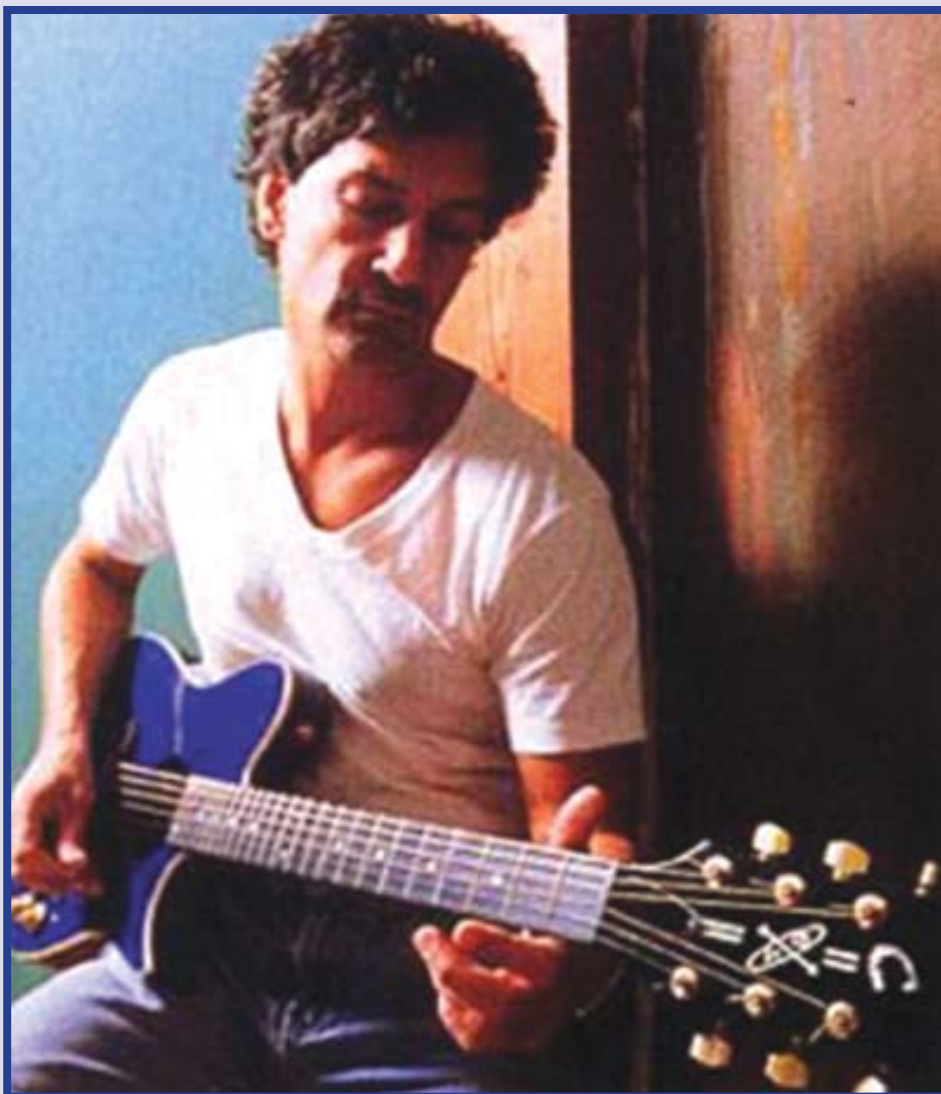

The Rippingtons are a contemporary or Fusion jazz group known for smooth jazz. Formed in 1986 by guitarist and band leader Russ Freeman (not to be confused with the jazz pianist of the same name), their career has, so far, spanned almost two decades. In the early to mid 90s they were more of a jazz/rock instrumental band, but since 1999 they have developed into more Smooth Jazz. Current members are Russ Freeman (guitar, keyboard), Dave Karasony (drummer), Bill Heller (pianist), Kim Stone (bassist), Scott Breadman (percussionist), Eric Marienthal (saxophonist). Past members have included Jeff Kashiwa, Brandon Fields, David Benoit, Tony Morales, Kenny G, and Steve Reid, to name a few.

Ringo's "AllStarrs" Are
Legends On Their Own

BILLY SQUIER

by Chris Long

It's the most spectacular concert Brevard has ever seen: Legendary "Beatle" Ringo Starr performs on July 9th, at 7 pm, at the King Center with a line-up of musicians who are legends on their own. Within an hour after the ticket office opened, the show was sold out. Those lucky ones who walked away with a ticket may look forward to a lifetime concert with the world's most famous drummer, Ringo Starr, along with Edgar Winter, Richard Marx, Rod Argent, Mark Hudson, Sheila E. and 80's rock legend Billy Squier. To set the exiting mood for an incredible show on July 9th, Brevard Live highlights some of the legends performing in the All-Starrs Band.

From former members of such supergroups as The Eagles, The Rascals, Night Ranger and others, the rosters of high profile musicians in Ringo Starr's various "All-Starr" touring bands over the years have read like a "Who's Who" of rock royalty. This year is no exception. In addition to pop songsmith and 80s hit maker Richard Marx, percussionist extraordinaire Sheila E, former Argent front man Rod Argent and legendary keyboardist Edgar Winter this year's ensemble also features the one and only Billy Squier on guitar.

Boston native, Billy

Squier first gained (a little) national notoriety in the late 70s as a member of the short lived, ill-fated group Piper. In 1980 his debut solo album Tale Of The Tape was released on Capitol records, unfortunately also to little fanfare. However, in 1981, he mounted the international rock scene like a drunken sailor on leave and rode it hard all the way to the top of the charts with his second album Don't Say No. This multi-platinum selling sophomore effort featured such classic rock staples as In The Dark, My Kind Of Lover, and his signature anthem

The Stroke. A Top Ten album combined with a string of successful, radio friendly singles, along with a non-stop touring schedule with such arena favorites as REO Speedwagon and Foghat had made Billy Squier a rock and roll household name by the end of 1981.

Throughout the early to mid 80s Billy Squier remained hot as a pistol, continuing to taste platinum with Top Ten chartbusting albums like Emotions In Motion and Signs Of Life. Subsequent hit singles like Everybody Wants You, She's A Runner, Rock Me Tonight, Don't Say You Love Me and an appearance on the 1982 Fast Times At Ridgemont High motion picture soundtrack also helped to propel him to the heights of rock superstardom. Although little has been heard from Billy Squier in recent years, his status is forever cemented as a major name in rock history and he successfully adds even more "curb appeal" to Ringo's already stellar line-up.

BETTER BANG FOR YOUR BUCKS

Fourth of July, family, friends and what else? FIREWORKS!!

For many years in Brevard County fireworks dealers were hard to find due to the strict laws on theatrical explosives but proprietor, Kevin Marsh persisted in his quest to open and expand the Best fireworks showroom in the State of Florida. He started selling fireworks in 1974 and eventually created THUNDERBOLT FIREWORKS, INC. in 1982.

The first store he opened in '82 is located in West, by God, Melbourne (3286 W. New Haven). Since then he has expanded to include stores in Cape Canaveral (6600 N. Atlantic Ave.) and Cocoa (4875 W. Hwy 520). With close family ties, the entire Marsh family pitches in and helps to maintain the business. They include Ed & Joe Marsh, Tom & Larry O'neil, Nick Marsh, Carmelo Gaglio, Vice-President Vince Marsh and Kathy Marsh from Channel 2 News.

Besides being the ONLY distributor to offer the full line of Black Cat and Black Cat Gold products, Thunderbolt Fireworks, Inc. specializes in CUSTOM made showboards. Each piece is unique in pieces and the size used and are always hand picked and wired. They range in price from $1,000 to $5,000 and last anywhere from 25 to 35 minutes or longer if requested and require ONE LIGHT ONLY. For the 4th of July, showboards typically need to be ordered

Brevard Symphony Orchestra: PATRIOTIC MUSIC AND FIREWORKS

Even if you cannot afford a trip to a large metropolitan area to celebrate the 4th of July, you can enjoy this Independence Day in style right here in Brevard in Cocoa Village. The Brevard Symphony Orchestra will perform in the Riverfront Park on the picturesque Indian River as a backdrop. The patriotic concert begins at 8 pm. Fireworks start at 9:15 pm. Admission is free.

Under the direction of Music Director/Principal Conductor Christopher Confessore, the BSO has programmed a concert to appeal to all ages, children as well as adults. One particular patriotic piece, "American Salute" honors each branch of the United States' Armed Forces and all servicemen and women are recognized. This free concert features a large variety of patriotic classics that include the 1812 Overture, Star Spangled Banner and crowd favorite – the Armed Forces Salute. An assortment of pops music will include selections from The Wizard of Oz, Pirates of the Caribbean and more! The concert continues as the skies light up with the annual fireworks display from the Cities of Cocoa and Rockledge.

Additional entertainment is in the planning stages. There will be hot dogs, drinks and Kettle Korn available for purchase. In addition, most shops and restaurants will remain open.

And for those that can't make it out but still want to be part of the action: The celebration will be simulcast on LiteRock 99.3 radio.

This is an event you won't want to miss. At second thought, cancel your trip to the large metropolitan area and stay in town. Our event is better anyway and you save a lot of bucks.

A Nice Place for a Pint!

The Motto Is...

NO SHOES, NO SHIRT, NO PROBLEM!

(... applies to men only!)

In 1986, Tom Collins, a developer by profession, purchased the property known as Sebastian Inlet Marina but would become Captain Hiram's. "I liked this spot on the river," says Tom. "I felt this place had potential." Since then it has grown from a small marina into the area's largest waterfront resort and restaurants. All month of June Captain Hiram's celebrates its 20th anniversary with an official party weekend on June 23, 24, and 25.

Captain Hiram's River Raw Bar opened on June 1st, 1987 with just 28 seats. Tom Collins had partnered with Martin Carter and Jimmy Hoffman and together they pursued their visions of turning the Sebastian Inlet Marina into an area attraction. The restaurant has expanded continuously over the years and now seats in excess of 500 people. The upstairs waterfront banquet and meeting facilities replaced the apartment that housed the original owners, prior to the purchase by Tom, Martin and Jimmy.

In the mid 1990's the SandBar was added and has been continuously expanded, most recently with the addition of the Coral Bar and the Grand Sand Bandstand. Entertainment/PR director Jan Taylor picks and chooses only the best bands and musicians to perform daily. She has up to 60 gigs per month to fill and works with 36 bands. For the past years, Jan has kept the live entertainment at Captain Hiram's diversified and fresh featuring young alternative groups (like dManufacture, see page 43) along with popular classic rock bands. For this month's entertainment schedule go to the calendar section or check the website at hirms.com.

The marina has evolved over the years, growing from a facility with 14 boat slips to a full service marina with 60 slips, a ship's store and transient facilities for the boating guests.

The hotel originated in 1994 with the construction of four Captain's Quarters rooms, located over the ships store. The success of these rooms led to the development of the Key West Inn (with 70 rooms), which opened in March of 2000. With all those expansions Captain Hiram's has been changing constantly during the past 20 years, but a few things stayed the same: The dining room is not air-conditioned, but enjoys a refreshing river breeze. The dress-code is casual and you are welcomed in shorts and flip flops. (The banquet rooms and the hotel rooms are under air!)

And the faces are, for the most part, the same: Tom, Martin and Jimmy still own Captain Hiram's. The customers from way back then are still showing up, and even the waiters and waitresses are mostly here to stay.

From the Inlet Marina to Captain Hiram's River Raw Bar to the area's largest waterfront resort and restaurant. Photo bottom: Jan Taylor with Pirate radio personalities.

Last month we crowned "Hammerhead , Half man, Half, Shark, Total Terror" the best crummy movie of the month. It's closest competition came in the form of the box office & critical bomb, Basic Instinct 2. How bad was Basic Instinct 2? Let's just say Hammerhead was award winning in comparison

BASIC INSTICT 2

Starring: Sharon Stone, David Morrissey and Charlotte Rampling, Rated: R, Running Time: 104 Minutes

The 1st one didn't, but Basic Instinct 2 really STINKS! It took 14 years to do and the bitch is back. Stone reprises her role as Catherine Trammel, a mystery novelist with arrogance and a sexy disposition. She now lives in London and there is speculation that she may be involved in a murder. She emanates sex, talks sex, breaths sex, - she is sex personified. Sharon is all flash and trash. Sounds contrived? It is. There is a lot of sex and sexy dialogue in this film. Dead bodies, murder & sex all set against a London backdrop. Lousy movie, but Sharon sure does look good. All 14 million dollars worth. (Sharon's paycheck) D

Starring: Daniel Sauli, David Alan Basche and David Rasche, Rated: R, Running Time: 111 Minutes

On September 11th 2001, yet another day that will live in infamy, 1 out of 4 airliner hijackings was thwarted before it reached its planned target - Washington DC. This is the powerfully moving story about the ill fated Boeing 757 that crashed in rural Pennsylvania. This movie stands as a tribute to the courageous and heroic passengers of that flight who bravely, while facing eminent death, overtook the hijacking terrorists and saved the nation's capital. Directed by Paul Greengrass (Bourne Supremacy), United 93 was filmed virtually in real time (extended scenes without multiple takes and edits).

Normal folks can do extraordinary things when they are in the face of adversity. Almost like a documentary, this film is a tastefully depicted reconstruction of the events. A cast with no big name stars intermingled with appearances by some of the actual people who were there makes for an authentic retelling of the events. The film is engrossing and riveting, even though the outcome is already known. A must see for all Americans! A

POSEIDON

Starring: Josh Lucas, Kurt Russell, Richard Dreyfuss, Emmy Rossum, Kevin Dillon, Rated PG 13, Running Time: 99 Minutes

In this enjoyable remake of the 1972 disaster-at-sea movie, director Wolfgang Peterson (Perfect Storm, Das Boot) shows off his talents at working in water, lots of water!

The title cruise ship, all 20 stories of it, is sailing along one particular New Year's Eve when, "Holy Titanic", a gigantic rogue wave rolls over it and makes it turn belly up.

As in the original, 1 man (Lucas) takes charge to lead a handful of passengers through the upward bowels of the capsized ship. The aforementioned handful of passengers includes an ex-mayor (Russell), a suicidal gay architect (Dreyfus), the mayor's daughter (Rossum), an obnoxious gambler (Dillon) a mother, her son and a stowaway.

They climb, crawl and endure extreme wetness as they find their way to the bottom, now the top, of the sinking cruise ship. They encounter an upside down world, floating corpses, broken down structures, burning oil fires and zillions of gallons of water. There is much action and loads of drama, soggy as it may be, in this impressively entertaining film. B

Massive Missives From The Masses

Ok, maybe not massive, but...ok, really? I got two emails regarding my last couple of articles. Ok? Ok. I was quite surprised by the way, that, first, nobody wanted to punch me in the face, and secondly, that both were supportive of point of view, or POV as we say in the state of the art internet porn world. I had a great article lined up regarding a subject brought up in one of the emails, but first I want to respond to them. You see this is my natural state. Just as water's natural state is 'liquid', my natural state is 'railing against the corrupt fat bloated pig we call the Federal Government of the United States'. I figured I'd write a few joke things to get you guys to like me, then I'd jump back to my natural state for a while, until nobody could take it anymore. But wait...I gotta check the Yankee's score for a second (my second natural state...like water turns to ice).....

Ok, they're losing.. what else is new? Anyway.. The first email I'd like to comment on is from John. This guy is a guy after my own heart. I can't quote his entire email, but just the fact that he mentions Bohemian Grove shows that he is hip to the scene, as we say in the jazz world. Not a lot of people know about this secret hideaway meeting place for the powerful to congregate, and fewer know what actually goes on there, so, hey John, maybe I'll write an article on the Grove in the future..and, btw..I DID see the movie. Also let me comment on the timeliness of your email, as this article was supposed to be a book report on 'Confessions of an Economic Hit Man'. For those who haven't read the book, please read it. Hey, maybe you'll end up as pissed off as I am some day! At any rate, that article is coming next month. As a matter of fact, last month, when I said that the past two articles and this one went together, I was referring to the article on this book, which will be next months article. Confused yet? Cool. . How cosmic that John should bring up this tremendously important book as I was typing about it. Also, a word about Ron Paul. He was our Libertarian presidential candidate twice in the 80's and he's written some excellent stuff. He is a Libertarian in Republicans clothing now but, like John, is the only one I trust in Congress. In conclusion, unlike Bill O'Reilly, who doesn't like 'bloviating', it was good to read John's rather lengthy email, and see that there is at least one person in the universe out there who sees things as I do. Thanks, man.

The second email I got was from William, and I'd like to quote him, so I hope he doesn't sue me. Here is a part of it:

"With so much talk on TV about Jesus one more question comes to mind.

Did He pay any taxes for the three years in which He delivered the message?"

I think we can probably answer that question from circumstantial evidence, although there is no direct reference to Jesus paying taxes in the Bible. He DID tell his disciples to leave everything behind and follow him, and he DID tell one rich guy to give it all away and follow him, and, when asked about taxes, he DID say 'Give unto Caesar what is Caesar's....', all of which makes me think that Jesus was basically a homeless guy who didn't have doodley-squat, economically speaking. If He were alive today, He probably would be one of those guys who fell between the proverbial cracks of the government statisticians. One thing bothers me, btw, about that 'Give unto Caesar' quote. I know what Jesus' point was (that the physical plane wasn't where it was at..so to speak), but did he really believe that every coin with Caesar's picture on it belonged to him? Does that mean we should send all of our quarters to the descendants of George Washington? I just don't get it. Here is how William ends his email:

"The question is, was Jesus crucified for blasphemy or tax evasion?"

Hahaha...I like your thinking William. I tend to believe a third option might exist, that being: inciting tax evasion. This actually seems plausible if you looked at how Jesus and his disciples lived. And remember, aside from the disciples, there were thousands of people following him toward the end. This must have pissed off the tax wang-heads to no end! As a big Jesus fan, and a big anti-income tax fan, I'd like to think that might have been a part of it

I'd like to thank the two senders-of-emails for sending their opinions on these subjects I write about because, as I sit here in my little hovel writing these things, I have no idea what anybody thinks of my words once they are out there in the universe. At least for now, it looks like the score is 2-0 in our favor, and I appreciate that you all appreciate my words and thoughts. They say that the two topics one shouldn't bring up at cocktail parties is politics and religion, but they are my two favorite subjects, so I write about them copiously. Like I said, nobody's punched me in the face...yet.

'America's one of the finest countries anyone ever stole.'

BLUES REV. BILLY C. WIRTZ ON WFIT

WFIT 89.5FM proudly presents "The Reverend Billy's Rhythm Revival" a brand new blues radio program hosted by the world renowned Reverend Billy C. Wirtz. The Reverend Billy C. Wirtz is a true believer of the House of Polyester Worship. Known for his cutting edge humor and exceptional musicianship, the Reverend now broadens his horizons with a weekly radio show on WFIT.

He has recorded such albums as Salvation Through Polyester, Backslider's Tractor Pull, Confessions of a Hillbilly Love God and Deep Fried and Sanctified. After playing as the house band for TBS's Monday Night Wrestling, Billy became a writer for Musician Magazine. Expect to be saved every Friday night 10pm - 12am, following Mr. Z's It's All The Blues, WFIT listeners will be treated to two hours of the very best classic and contemporary blues, rock, folk, country western, and soul gospel music. Don't miss the debut of "The Reverend Billy's Rhythm Revival" with your host the Reverend Billy C. Wirtz on Friday May 26, 2006 from 10pm until midnight on WFIT-FM. More info available at: www.reverendbilly.com

LOVIN' THE BLUES...

It was one of the finest blues shows Cocoa Beach has seen in a while and the man responsible to bring the Siegel-Schwall Band to Brevard, Joel Silver (photo right) with Corky Siegel, had a great time: "I never got so many thanks, hugs and handshakes," he said afterwards. Old friends met again, and new friends were made. The Rev. Billy C. Wirtz and Siegel-Schwall got along so well, they did a closing 12 minute jam that knocked the house down. And afterwards they talked about the Reverend opening other shows as well.

Nominated For The 2006 BMA's
Entertainer Of The Year Award:

MEDUSA

Five bands were nominated to be the "Entertainer Of The Year 2006" at the Brevard Live Music Awards held Monday, August 28th, 6pm, at the Henegar Center: Black Eyed Soul, John Quinlivan Band, Medusa, Middle Finger Band, and Pinch. We will introduce each band to you over the next three months. This month we want to tell you about Medusa!

Legend says that one look at the mythical creature Medusa and you will turn to stone. Fear not, for the band Medusa will simply turn you to rock. Their set list spans over four decades of music, while adding new material from today's popular music.

Medusa thrives on the live experience, and feeds off the energy of the crowd. With a wireless mic system, they interact with the crowd, getting them involved and coming back for more. Medusa has gathered quite a following with hundreds of contacts on their mailing list.

Medusa has played together as a group for over seven years and collectively has 60 years experience in music. Not only is Medusa adept at the nightclub scene, they have performed at various outdoor festivals and events, including the Melbourne Art Festival in 2000 and 2001, Biketoberfest, and the Friday Fest street party's among others.

Medusa has released their first self-titled CD, which was recorded at Greg Rike Productions in Altamonte Springs. The CD received rave reviews, has been featured in Brevard Live Magazine and has also received airplay on radio stations such as 95.1 BVD, 104.1 Philips Phile, and 107.1 WA1A. Medusa has also contributed tracks for two other CD compilations in the area including "Compilation 2000 Vol. 2," which is a CD featuring local area bands, and a Beatles Tribute CD, which features local area bands covering Beatles songs.

Medusa's CD release party was a huge success. Never before had a band had a CD release party on a river boat. Medusa booked the "Dream Believer River Cruise" and tickets to the event sold out quickly. Medusa is looking forward to offering a rock and roll cruise sometime in the summer.

Since April 2006, Medusa is officially sponsored by Budweiser. That means they give away all kinds of Budweiser goodies during their shows.

Front-woman Brenda is honored by her nomination for BMA's "Entertainer Of The Year". "We would be thrilled to win this category," Brenda says, "Because I do think we put it all out there. We entertain!"

Medusa is: Brenda (Lead Vocals, Percussion), Darren (Lead Guitar, Vocals), Glenn (Keyboards, Vocals), Vince (Bass Guitar, Vocals), Fred (Drums, Percussion). Visit the website at www.medusalive.com to find out where Medusa is playing this month.

BILLY CHAPMAN - Sweet Nothings 13 Song CD

Billy Chapman has been an icon of Brevard's music scene for nearly 20 years. In fact, he's been on stage entertaining us here on the Space Coast for so long that it's perhaps easy to take his talent for granted. However, this record "brought it all home" reminding me once again of how supremely talented and gifted this guy really is.

For starters, buyer beware. If you're looking for hip, cool, funky-fresh, street grooves that'll "rock the house" bee-atch, you ain't gonna find 'em here. Sweet Nothings is a stripped down collection of heartfelt acoustic compositions. For me, a great song needs to tell a great story and this record is full of personal stories and observations based on the life experiences of this unique artist.

Billy has been associated for so long in this town with being a singer in various projects that I had kinda lost sight of what an amazing guitarist he is. And oddly enough my two favorite tracks on this record, Scratchy and Maleguena are both amazing instrumental compositions.

At best, Sweet Nothings offers charming, raspy-throat little ditties like the lead off track, In The Moonlight and Young Wild & Free. On the other hand, Billy can also "ramble" a bit as is the case with Summer Rain. However, (for what it's worth) I really liked the record and I played it over and over at least eight or ten times in the ol' mini van before once again replacing it with my new Dresden Dolls CD.

Way to go Billy. What took you so long? (www.billychapman.com)

The Little Cigar Factory In Indialantic:

A FINE CUP OF JOE AND A GREAT SMOKE

The Little Cigar Factory in Indialantic has only been open a year but owner's Tim and Nicole have already found their niche. Being from Long Island, N.Y. and wanting a change of pace, lifestyle and career they came to Brevard County with a dream of opening a unique place near the sea for people to purchase a fine cup of joe and enjoy a great smoke.

They started with a coffee business and imported Exotic and Premium blend coffees directly from San Ramon, Costa Rica. Tim and Nicole now deal directly with the farmers of Verona Del Sur Coffee Company to cut out all middlemen and offer the best prices on the finest Costa Rican coffees. Alone, they are fresh and robust but with flavors Tim and Nicole add themselves like Amaretto, Almond, Blueberry (my personal favorite), Chocolate, Chocolate Raspberry, Cinnamon Hazelnut and Macadamia Nut - there is a cup for any taste of every coffee lover!

Seeing that there was a need for a cigar smoking lounge beach side, Tim and Nicole added a "smoking allowed" tropical living room to their coffee lounge on A1A and stocked their showroom with humidors filled with cigars that are a blend of top quality Dominican & Nicaraguan Tobaccos with Indonesian binders and a choice of Sumatra, Maduro, Connecticut & Cameroon wrappers. They also carry cigar accessories and gift sets with coffee AND cigar, so don't forget the special man in your life this Father's Day and be sure to mention BREVARD LIVE MAGAZINE for an additional 10% off your purchases!

If you are planning a party or 'get-togethers' of any kind, inquire about their authentic Torcedor. They will actually send a highly trained, traditionally costumed cigar roller to hand roll your cigars and an experienced cigar attendant to distribute and cut cigars for your event. What could be more distinguishing?

By the end of summer Tim and Nicole plan on opening another Little Cigar Factory in Palm Bay and you can also find them at each Friday Fest in Downtown Melbourne.

Kabob In Palm Bay:

MEDITERRANEAN DISHES TO DI(N)E FOR

Kabob's serves an array of Mediterranean foods from Baba Ghannouj to Mousaka and, of course, Kabobs. Dishes from several different cultures are on the menu, from Turkish to Greek to Lebanese and even Kosher.

Kabob's offers numerous dinner dishes to choose from and one particular dish was so inviting my family couldn't wait for me to finish taking photos before digging in. We started out with a vegetarian platter, which includes Falafel, Baba Ghannouj, Hummus, Tabbouleh, Stuffed Grape Leaves and plenty of Pita to go around. Because we're meat eaters, we couldn't resist an order of Kibbeh, a cracked wheat crust stuffed with beef, pine nuts and onions. By the time our plates were scraped clean we didn't have enough room to order another tasty dish. But there's always room for dessert. I recommend the Lady Finger, a mix of pistachio and other ingredients wrapped in flaky phyllo dough and topped with a sweet sauce.

Kabob's has numerous dishes for both vegetarians and meat eaters. For vegetarians there is Moujadara; a rice dish with lentils and fried onion, Falafel pita wraps and vegetable kabobs. For carnivores there are meat and rice, stuffed grape leaves, Gyros with lamb, Shawerma and meat and vegetable kabobs.

The restaurant has been open since 1991 and was recently renovated. In the past it had been connected to the Mediterranean Market next door. The market also has an array of items from different Mediterranean cultures such as cheeses, phyllo dough, dried and canned goods and pastries.

Kabob's is located at 4700 Babcock Street in Palm Bay.

SALSA WINNERS AT THE FIESTA BREVARD

Kimberly Smith of Merritt Island was chosen the Judge's Choice Award winner with her signature salsa - La Vida Smith by a panel of celebrity judges. The People's Choice Award (the winner of this award is determined 'by the people' the night of the event) was presented to Olga C. Martinez of Cocoa Beach for her Salsa Baja California at the Cocoa Beach Area Chamber of Commerce's 2nd Annual Fiesta Brevard.

Over nine hundred people attended this festive event at the Holiday Inn Cocoa Beach Oceanfront Resort. It hosted a competition for the 'best salsa' recipe in the area, live music and entertainment that spiced up the night which included salsa dance lessons, Latin music and mariachis.

During the event, the winners of the Grand Prize Fiesta Packages were drawn. P. Thompson of Melbourne won a Seven-Day Cruise on Carnival Cruise Lines for Two People. Stacey Stoll/Cocoa won the Orlando Fun Package night stay at the Holiday Inn International Drive Resort in Orlando and tickets to Universal Studios Adventure Park. Linda Druckenmiller/Rockledge won the Fiesta Treasure Basket valued over $500 in gift certificates from local restaurants and merchants.

Pizza Gallery & Grill In Viera And Melbourne:

GOURMET PIZZA & OTHER ARTISTIC ENTREES

In our continuous search for unique and artistic food, we rediscovered one place that has changed Brevard's taste for pizza since 1989. That's when Chris and Robin Conneen opened the first Pizza Gallery in Melbourne.

"We had eaten enough of the same old pizza and wanted to try something different," says Chris Conneen who spent the following years inventing a variety of new pizza creations. The pizza possibilities are endless: 5 types of crust, 20 different sauces, and over 100 toppings to choose from, so you can become a "pizza artist" as well.

The new restaurant at The Avenue Viera features an extended menu. Besides gourmet pizza (like The Alvar Pizza, photo below), you can choose delicious seafood entrees (like "Arroz Valensiana", photo left) or a sesame crusted seared tuna appetizer (photo left). You can order chicken, steak, unique salads, pasta - and it all looks and tastes great.

The Pizza Gallery & Grill offers a bar, a patio with live entertainment, and an area where kids can get creative.

Located at 2250 Town Center Ave in Viera and at 3700 N. Wickham Rd. in Melbourne.

 BETWEEN MEG-O-MALLEY'S & THE POST OFFICE

Health-Guru Hagen Panton:

MORE DAYLIGHT, MORE VITAMIN D

More than half of American women receiving drug therapy for osteoporosis are deficient in vitamin D, according to the Journal of Clinical Endocrinology and Metabolism (2005;90:3215-24). Vitamin D is essential for calcium absorption and metabolism and is required for healthy bones and to protect against osteoporosis. The new research suggests that many women with osteoporosis are using drugs to treat a problem that could be helped simply by getting sun more often or by taking a nutritional supplement.

Researchers measured blood levels of vitamin D and parathyroid hormone (which regulates calcium metabolism) in 1,526 postmenopausal women whose average age was 71. The optimal blood level of vitamin D remains a matter of debate, but the authors used 30 nanograms/milliliter (ng/ml) as a cutoff point below which women were considered deficient. Just over half the women studied were vitamin D-deficient. Vitamin D deficiency was also more common among women who took less than 400 IU per day of vitamin D as a supplement.

The conclusions of this study are limited, because the authors studied North American women only during the winter months, when blood vitamin D levels tend to be at their lowest. Because they studied almost exclusively white women, their results cannot be extrapolated to other racial groups. Non-whites have been reported to have an even higher rate of vitamin D insufficiency.

Osteoporosis is a common disease in which bones become porous and brittle and lose their mass. As a result, bones become more susceptible to fractures. Both men and women are affected by osteoporosis, but it is more common in women. According to the National Institutes of Health, 10 million Americans have osteoporosis and an additional 34 million have low bone mass, putting them at increased risk for the disease. In the United States, half of all women over 50

(and a quarter of all men that age) will have an osteoporosis-related fracture in their lifetime, usually of the hip, spine, or wrist. Because of the central roles nutrition and lifestyle play in bone health, osteoporosis is very much a preventable disease.

The recommended daily intake of vitamin D is 400 IU for women ages 51 to 70 and 600 IU for women 70 years and older. The most important source of vitamin D is sunshine. When the skin is exposed to ultraviolet light, it makes vitamin D (some estimates say the body can get sufficient vitamin D from a daily 20-minute exposure of face and arms). Many elderly women and men become deficient in vitamin D because they spend most or all of their time indoors. There has also been millions of dollars spent on misleading advertising by the sunscreen industry to cause you to fear sunlight and buy their products. Vitamin D is also found in foods, primarily those of animal origin, such as fish, eggs, milk products, and meats. Mushrooms are a significant nonanimal source of vitamin D. Tanning beds and nutritional supplements containing vitamin D are also cost effective ways to obtain this essential nutrient.

In addition to getting adequate vitamin D and calcium, osteoporosis risk can be reduced by making dietary and lifestyle changes, such as eating moderate amounts of animal protein, eating less salt, avoiding caffeine and soft drinks containing phosphoric acid, quitting smoking, and getting regular weight-bearing exercise, such as walking. Exercise is necessary not only for bone health but also to keep coordination up in the event of a fall. This will allow quicker reaction times and better motor skills. Thanks for learning with me... DJ JT: LUCKY WINNER!

DJ JT offers new sound and light equipment at his dance parties at Captain J's, Fishlips and Graham's in Cocoa Beach. Last month he won a nice chunk of extra cash by playing the lottery. "It wasn't a big sum but I thought the best investment would be my own business", says JT. For the past 20 years JT has been entertaining people by spinning records or Karaoke services. He's been a fixture on the Space Coast since 1998.

COOLIE RANX PERFORMS AT BENEFIT CONCERT

Music for HOPE is a show produced by a group of friends to promote a positive message of life and hope through music. This show - the third of its kind - takes place on June 10th starting at 9:30 pm at The Hustler in Indialantic. Special guest is the undisputed King of Raggae Core, Coolie Ranx from Brooklyn, NY. Coolie was discovered in 1990 when lead singer and guitarist of The Toasters, Rob "Bucket" Hingley, heard Coolie's dancehall reggae EP. Joining the Toasters in the early 1990's, he toured and recorded two albums with the band, including Dub 56, which features two songs he wrote. Other bands performing are the New School Dropouts from Satellite Beach and Boxelder from Jupiter, Fl. The left photo shows Jack Hoffpaur (center) with surfboard shaper Steve Forstall (right) and artist Mark Longenecker (left) with a board that is to be raffled off at this benefit. All proceeds will benefit the Kristin Brooks Hope Center.

Art in Brevard

by Lou Belcher

ANNE WHITE-SCRUGGS AND ROGER WHITE

Anne White-Scruggs and George White are much more than mother and son — they are collaborators, taking inspiration from the earth and creating beautiful pottery. They make a well-balanced team with George throwing the pots and Anne creating the intricate surface decorations.

It has been a long creative journey for Anne to this collaboration with her son. It started in Tennessee where she was born. Her mother, a quilter and artist, discouraged the first signs that Anne might become a potter. She told Anne to stop playing with mud or she'd never amount to a hill of beans. We're glad Anne didn't take that to heart.

After Anne married her first husband, they moved to Montana where Anne studied with master potters at the Archie Bray Foundation and participated in seminars conducted by the great potters Shoji Hamada, Maria Martinez, and Bernard Leach. She also developed an art show for TV, taught blind students, and became involved in several state organizations. She sold her pottery in several galleries from Montana to Seattle, Washington, and she taught pottery classes in her studio.

After Montana, Anne moved back to Nashville, Tennessee, where she became the director of the Artist Guild Galleries (a position she held from 1965 until 1972), she was an art therapist for the Mental Health Association, she provided training for art educators, and she taught at a private school for girls. It's obvious that she loves children as she includes them in her work and volunteer work wherever she goes. She believes that children, and particularly troubled children, need art the most.

When Anne's children went off to college and after her divorce, she decided to move to Bell Buckle, Tennessee, a town of 453 people. She bought a Victorian home and opened a bed and breakfast. Webb School, an international boarding school, was located three blocks from her home. She helped develop the art department for the school and taught there for ten years. Anne soon saw Bell Buckle's potential for artists, and she helped to promote the restoration of the 14 downtown, historic buildings. She bought the old bank building for $4,000, and they gave her the building next door as a bonus. She renovated both buildings and used them as her studio and shop — Bell Buckle Crafts.

Anne met her second husband, Bob Scruggs (of the musical Scruggs family), in the Bell Buckle Café. He provides the promotional component for Anne's artwork as well as being an accomplished writer and musician. They lived in Bell Buckle for 27 years. Due to her leadership in transforming Bell Buckle into a tourist destination, the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development chose Anne as a "Tennessee Treasure." She was honored along with B.B. King for her contributions to Tennessee. Anne was also honored with lifetime membership in the Tennessee Association of Craftpersons and Artists, and she was honored by Bell Buckle when they named a street after her.

George White comes by his talents naturally. His artistic tendencies started in Anne's first studio in Montana. In fact, all three of Anne's children used to play in the studio while she worked. So, it is perfectly logical that they all grew to have talents in writing, art, and music.

George White moved to the Melbourne area approximately 20 years ago. After graduating from the University of Tennessee with a degree in journalism, he worked at the local newspapers in and around Bell Buckle. About 20 years ago when the Gannett newspaper group formed, the head of the journalism department at the University of Tennessee recommended that George write for Florida Today. He continues to write for them and provides the photography for his articles. Multi-talented, George also plays the banjo with the Buckateers, he writes poetry, and of course he throws pots. His love for children shines through with his involvement with the Indian Guides – a group for boys and girls ages 8 to 12 years.

Before Anne moved to Florida, George discovered the Horse Creek Pottery — a co-operative that provides workspace for potters, including 15 potters' wheels, a primitive wood fire kiln, and a gas-reduction firing kiln. When Anne and her husband came down for extended visits three years in a row before moving here, she joined the Horse Creek Pottery. The association with other artists and living near George made the decision to move to Florida much easier

Anne and George have merged beautifully as potters. George throws the pots ensuring that he achieves their goals of forming a beautiful shape while maintaining utility. Then it's Anne's turn. She never knows what she'll see in a pot when she starts carving, but she knows that her love of the earth, her Cherokee heritage, and her fondness for artwork depicting an Asian influence will come through. They always do.

Anne has been here for a year now. In that year, she and George have found the fellowship of other artists through the Horse Creek Pottery and the Art and Antiques Gallery (in the historic Eau Gallie area of Melbourne) where Anne and George show their work. In June, their joint show, Generations: Pottery Passed On will be highlighted by the Art and Antiques Gallery. A reception for the public is scheduled for June 2nd, 5:30 to 8:30, at the gallery to kick off their show. In addition, George's book of poetry and photography, Blackbird Highway, will debut during the show. The poetry and photographs offer a reminiscent view of earlier years in the South.

PREMIERE OF BREVARD BALLET THEATER

Galmont Ballet presents the premiere of Brevard Ballet Theater in "Season for the Great Composers" on June 17, 7 pm, at the King Center for the Performing Arts in Melbourne. Under the artistic direction of Frank Galvez and Lucia Montero, this exciting Ballet Company offers virtuosity and romance in a line of majestic and extremely emotional works choreographed by Frank Galvez and set to the music of composers Gershwin, Bizet, Chauvrie, Rachmaninoff, Wagner, and more - a dynamic presentation of the Neo-Classical and Contemporary Ballet.

The evening performance, an eve celebration of "Father's Day", features ballet pieces also from the classical repertory such as the Grand Pas de Deux of "Don Quixote", and "Le Corsaire", and the Melbourne premieres of "Rhapsody", set to music of composer George Gershwin, inspired by and as a tribute to Hollywood Acqua Musicals Star The American Mermaid Esther Williams. Closing this Gala performance is the premiere of "It's What We Feel", a tribute to Frank Sinatra, set to a selection of Sinatra's songs featuring a duet with Luciano Pavarotti.

Galmont Ballet is the Centre for Dance Education, the training ground for the future professional dancers of Brevard Ballet Theater. The Company is currently conformed of 6 professional dancers and 5 pre-professional dancers, who are students of the school's top level of training. This group differs from others in our community because of its neo-classical line; its choreographic repertory always carries a message to the audience.

Brevard Ballet Theater has a 5 years long range plan that includes not only concert performances throughout our county and adjacent communities, but also develops an intensive outreach program available to all levels of our society. For ticket information call King Center Ticket Office at 321-242-2219, or Ticketmaster.
